Bomb 30 Miles From Red China

SAIGON, Viet Nam (AP) — U.S. jet fighter-bombers flew within 30 miles of Red China today on a bombing mission over North Viet Nam, a U.S. military spokesman said.

It was the closest announced strike ever to the Chinese mainland since the United States began bombing Communist targets in North Viet Nam last Feb. 7.

All Planes Return

Four U.S. Air Force F105 Thunderchiefs hit a group of railroad cars about 105 miles northwest of Hanoi near the town of Ba Ho, the spokesman said. He reported all planes returned safely.

Pilots said they dropped nine tons of bombs on the targets, damaging 11 box cars.

Meanwhile, U.S. B52 bombers made their second raid in three days on the mountainous Do Xa area 250 miles northeast of Saigon, the spokesman announced.

Eighth B52 Raid
The spokesman said "a number" of the Strategic Air Command jets from Guam made the strike on a suspected Viet Cong base in Quang Tin Province. It was the eighth B52 raid of the Viet Nam conflict to be announced.

The Viet Cong has long controlled the Do Xa, a mist-shrouded area of jungled mountains in the central highlands. Thirty B52s from Guam hit the area on Monday.

On the ground, troops of the 101st Airborne Division came under Viet Cong fire for the first time since they landed.

Emergency Fund Need For Asia

Request of LBJ Gives Few Details

By EDWIN B. HAAKINSON

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson asked Congress today for $1.7 billion of "additional funds to increase our military strength in Viet Nam."

The President sent the request to the Senate as Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara testified at a closed session of the Senate Defense Appropriations Subcommittee on the funds.

Few Details
The presidential request provided few details.

Johnson listed the additional $1.7 billion as an "emergency fund, Southeast Asia."

Under the request, the money would be made available to the secretary of defense "upon determination by the President that such action is necessary in connection with military activities in Southeast Asia."

Except for the amount, the request was a duplicate of $700-million emergency fund asked by the President on May 7 and rushed through Congress in two days.

Some Favor More
Even before the formal request arrived there were indications some senators favor a still larger total.

"I think the Congress wants to be certain they have enough money," Sen. Leverett Saltonstall of Massachusetts, the senior Republican member of the Senate Armed Services and Appropriations Committees, said in an interview.

Other Fronts
Viet Nam meanwhile occupied official Washington on several other fronts:

— Roving Ambassador W. Averell Harriman, who returned last night from a tour of Moscow and some Western European capitals, had an appointment to discuss his impressions with President Johnson and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

Harriman said on arrival he is quite sure the Soviets want a peaceful solution but "it's in the hands of North Viet Nam." The North Vietnamese, he went on, still believe "they can take over South Viet Nam by force."

— Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor, the outgoing U.S. ambassador to South Viet Nam, had a separate appointment with Johnson.

— The Navy, preparing to induct drafted men for the first time in a decade, also was considering the possibility of extending the enlistments of some skilled specialists.

— The Defense Department denied any plan to divert troops from Europe to Viet Nam and said specifically reports of a shift of 7th Army units after the West German elections are not true.

War on Tyranny

Johnson said Tuesday "America wins the war that she undertakes" and added this column.

Record Crowds Anticipated for Big Area Sales

The annual sales days set in August are scheduled this week on Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

Advertisements offering attractive buys of quality merchandise are appearing in The Freeman.

Stores in the city and surrounding areas are among the advertisers participating in the big three days of bargains for area shoppers.

Store hours and other information relating to the sales days are printed in the advertisements.

Each year local residents and visiting vacationists take advantage of the big August sale, and the one starting Thursday is expected to attract record crowds.

Feel New Troops, Air Strikes May Stop Cong Sweep

HONOLULU, Hawaii (AP) — High American military officials believe the introduction of more U.S. ground forces coupled with continuous air strikes on North Viet Nam may prevent a Communist takeover of South Viet Nam.

While total victory may never be achieved, they suspect a milestone will have passed once the monsoon season, which favors guerrilla operations, ends about the middle of next month.

Offensive Fizzles

An expected Viet Cong monsoon offensive more or less fizzled out. And more American GI's will be in South Viet Nam and ready to take the offensive about the time the rainy season ends.

The officials believe Viet Cong momentum has been lost because of high casualty rates in recent months.

A big factor, they say, is the continuous air offensive against supply targets and staging areas in North Viet Nam.

This veiled U.S. optimism follows a high-level Viet Nam conference in Honolulu, where top military men tackled details of the logistic problems involved in beefing up U.S. ground forces in Viet Nam.

President Johnson has authorized a troop increase to 125,000 men with the possibility that more will be made available if necessary. About 75,000 U.S. troops are in South Viet Nam now.

Staff members from the Saigon command and the Pentagon won't finish the paperwork until the end of the week, officials say.

Mayor's Alternative on Local Supply Held Up; Study Is Due on Workers

A proposed state health insurance plan for city employees and Mayor John J. Schwenk's alternative proposal to increase city water storage were not acted upon at Tuesday night's meeting of the Common Council but it approved a $55,500 snow removal sum and $3,720 for an addressograph machine.

Three claims totaling $700,000 were filed and referred to Corporation Counsel Harry Gold, and Alderman Edward J. Schrowang (R) First Ward, proposed consideration of local certified public accountants in the auditing of city accounts, which has been done by R. T. Lingley & Co., of New York.

Majority Leader John Machione (R) 12th Ward, who heads the council's finance committee, explained that more time was needed to study the health insurance plan on which information was submitted in July.

Plans More Study
Machione noted that six proposals submitted by insurance companies had been studied, but information obtained by his committee was not considered complete. The committee, he said, would meet again several times and seek more information and proposals.

Mayor Schwenk's alternative plan to increase city water storage, as announced Tuesday, was not introduced or discussed at the session. It has, however, been presented to Alderman Machione as finance committee chairman, and since no action has been taken on the water board's proposal to increase Cooper Lake storage, it is apparently due in July.

The water board in July asked approval of a $550,000 bond sum to improve Cooper Lake dam and take whatever other action which might be necessary to add 280 million gallons to the reservoir's present storage capacity of 1,186,000,000 gallons.

Mayor Schwenk asks exploration of using water in Echo Lake on Overlook Mountain, Woodstock, which is at the source of the Sawkill Creek. In his opinion, this means of gaining more water storage capacity, would cost less than adding to the Cooper Lake dam.

Not City Property
"Very little property on the upper Sawkill watershed is owned by the city, and therefore the only quality safeguards would be department regulations and a sanitary patrol.

"Flow from the upper Sawkill is of generally poorer quality, is more subject to deterioration from storm runoff, and is less guarded as to sanitary quality than Mink Hollow.

"Recent tests indicate that considerable color exists below Shady from suspended solids. This color is particularly noticeable after storms and unfortunately holds steady for a considerable period.

"Turbidity is high in the stream, particularly after storms. It is not considered feasible to immediately known.

On Snow, Ice Control
A letter to the Board of Public Works on snow and ice control, sent to the council by the mayor, explained that for the period which fiscally ended June 30, 1965, the total expended was $41,648.33 in excess of the $22,000 in the 1965 budget.

It is also estimated that $13,851.67 will be required for snow removal to Dec. 31, 1965.

Mayor Schwenk's letter dealing with the need for purchasing an addressograph machine noted that such service by county equipment, as has been proposed, would, by rough estimate, cost $9,500.

This would be for printing of the assessor's work books, assessment and tax rolls, school tax roll, addressing water bills, and the printing and addressing of delinquent tax notices on two different forms.

Also, he said, there was a "serious question" as to whether the county tabulation department could take care of this matter.

If it interfered in any way with county work it could not be done, and the necessary approval of the plan would have to be received. He therefore urged approval of purchasing the machine.

Claims Filed
Of the claims filed, one was by Lester I. Green, of 19 West Union Street, in behalf of himself as parent, and for his 16-year-old daughter, Brenda, for $600,000. It is for an eye injury allegedly suffered when a stone was thrown at Cornell Park last May 16. The sum of $500,000 is sought for the daughter and $100,000 for the father.

One of $70,000 was filed by Joseph Cantwell, of 177 Green Street, for himself and son, Richard Cantwell, 10. It is both against the city and the New York Central Railroad for injuries suffered by Richard, who, it is claimed, received multiple injuries when he fell from a swinging rope in the railroad cut near the rear of the City Hall and Kingston Hospital last April 23. The rope had been tied to a tree.

The claim in behalf of the boy is $50,000, and that for the father $20,000.

Plans Announced Today for City's New Post Office

Plans for a new post office in Kingston were announced today by Postmaster General John A. Gronowski.

"The new building," he said, "is designed to carry out the Post Office Department's objective of a more efficient postal service combined with improved working conditions for our employees."

The new building, as planned, will be located on the southeast corner of Cornell Street and Smith Avenue.

The Freeman learned in 1964 that a new building was being considered and a site mentioned, even before last year, was one at Cornell Street and Smith Avenue (the former Athletic Field, which is now owned by J. W. Matthews Inc.)

"President Johnson," said Postmaster General Gronowski, "has asked us to exercise frugality in conducting our governmental operations and we are doing so. New construction, therefore, is being authorized only when it is demonstrated that the need is urgent and no other alternative is available."

The alternative, he explained, would involve remodeling of the existing building or moving into other suitable quarters in the same community. The building, he said, will be constructed under the department's lease construction program, with the government's capital investment limited to postal equipment.

Plans and specifications for the new building, as well as bidding forms and other pertinent data, will be made available to prospective builders at an early date, at which time the department will advertise for bids.

The site option will be assigned to the winning bidder.

Navy Musters First Draftees in Decade

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Navy set out today to muster the first draftees it has used in a decade. It also is considering involuntary extensions of duty for skilled men whose enlistments are expiring.

The service is suggesting that its total manpower be increased by about 35,000, but this figure is still under scrutiny by both Navy and Defense Department officials.

Biggest Since Korea

A Pentagon call for the biggest Army draft quotas since mid-point in the Korean War carried a provision for the Navy to get 4,600 draftees in October.

A Defense Department announcement Tuesday was the first official step putting into effect President Johnson's order to raise monthly draft quotas from the previous 17,000 level to as high as 35,000.

The department did three things: 1. Revised the 17,000 call for September, which was issued only 12 days ago, to a new total of 27,400 men, all for the Army. 2. Requested a quota of 33,600 in October, the biggest levy since the 80,000 monthly quotas at the peak of the Korean War. 3. Specified that 4,600 of the October quota be for the Navy. The Marines and Air Force, as usual, requested no draftees.

The Navy's last request for draftees was made for two months late in 1955 and one month early in 1956 when the number of volunteers fell to a point where the Navy was under its required strength.

Today, the Navy's need arises from several factors.

More Ships Due
More ships are coming into service, largely because of the requirements of the war in Viet Nam, but also as part of a general buildup.

More men are needed to man such support craft as amphibious ships. They also are needed to fill out crews of ships under strength. And it is estimated that more men are needed for some of the shore stations which contribute directly to support of the Viet Nam conflict.

Needs Trained Men
What the Navy says it needs is more technically trained enlisted men, able to take over the complex electronic gear on ships and to maintain and repair aircraft and their engines.

The Navy, the Defense Department said in answer to a question, still has legal authority, carried over from the Korean War to order involuntary extension of active duty, but only with the approval of the secretary of defense. The Army and Air Force do not have this authority and would have to obtain congressional approval if they wished to freeze enlistments.

Havens served in both world wars and was vice president and treasurer of the Airship Manufacturing Company in Hammondsport. He has travelled extensively throughout the world.

He will join Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Elkville), the keynote speaker and other officials for the dedication ceremonies after he arrives in Red Hook on Saturday.

Aviation Pioneer To Be Present at Skypark Program

Beckwith Havens of New York City, a former Red Hook resident and member of the Curtiss Exhibition Flying Team in 1911 will attend the Sunday, Aug. 8, dedication of Skypark Airport on Route 199 in Red Hook.

In a letter to Skypark Manager Frank Davison, Havens stated, "As the first person to fly from Red Hook and Dutchess County, I am looking forward to being present for dedication. I was a member of the Curtiss team in 1911 and was the second person to fly down the Hudson and the first with a person."

Havens was also the first pilot to fly up the Hudson River.

Born in New York City in 1880, Havens lived on the Beckwith farm between Red Hook and Tivoli between 1900 and 1910. He was a student at the Red Hook School and also raced automobiles in Poughkeepsie.

for John VanBenSchoten, the original American Dodge dealer. Havens left the Red Hook area to join the Curtiss team and in the process became aviation's first salesman.

"We didn't sell many airplanes," Havens said, "but we did have a great deal of fun."

Havens served in both world wars and was vice president and treasurer of the Airship Manufacturing Company in Hammondsport. He has travelled extensively throughout the world.

He will join Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Elkville), the keynote speaker and other officials for the dedication ceremonies after he arrives in Red Hook on Saturday.

Resnick Silent on Garraghan, Denial Made Kaye Is Favorite

Washington wires were silent today on a report that Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick (D-Elkville) may try to block Raymond W. Garraghan's bid for the Kingston Democratic mayoral candidacy.

Some sources this morning quoted Resnick's district representative in Poughkeepsie as saying that the Congressman will urge Harold L. Kaye to oppose Garraghan in the Sept. 14 primaries.

However, John Logan, the representative denied that he had made any such statement at a meeting last night. Kaye, former alderman-at-large and employee of Kaye's Sportswear Inc. was reportedly in Saratoga today and was unavailable for comment at press time.

Resnick's move originated when Garraghan accepted the Conservative Party's endorsement of his mayoral bid July 27. Garraghan had previously won a Democratic nomination at the unofficial city convention last month.

Won't Back Down
Garraghan told The Freeman today that he stands firm in his acceptance of the Conservative endorsement. When informed of Resnick's alleged proposal to support Kaye, he had no comment.

Garraghan, also a local businessman stated that "I read the article in last night's Freeman that stated Mr. Resnick seemed to be upset that as a Democrat I had accepted the Conservative endorsement for the office of mayor."

"I have made no pledges to anyone. When elected I plan to serve for the benefit of all the people, to build a city that all the taxpayers, employees and citizens will be proud to live in."

"Mr. Resnick may be thinking of the Conservative group that accused President Eisenhower of being a Communist. The local Conservatives are a fine group of outstanding people who are interested in economy and integrity; people whose patriotic motives can never be questioned."

Feels Honored
"As a Democrat I feel highly honored to accept their endorsement."

Resnick, currently in conference with a top local Democratic official in Washington was also unavailable for comment as (Continued on Page 39, Col. 2)

Today's Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — Britain's struggle to bolster the pound sterling—one of the few remaining status symbols of the once proud British Empire—is more closely tied to the future of the American dollar than you might think.

Are Still Linked

For the dollar and the pound are still linked in world financial affairs. Trouble in London's Threadneedle Street can affect Wall Street—and Main Street. The pound no longer has the importance it boasted back in the flourishing 1920s. Its collapse at the start of the 1930s set up a chain reaction of business woe throughout the world that contributed in large measure to the depths to which the American economy sank in the Great Depression.

If the pound isn't that important today, the state of the British economy and the health of the European Common Market are still matters of concern to U.S. business as well as to U.S. monetary authorities.

The American economy at the moment looks strong enough to take care of the many domestic problems and even the stepped-up Viet Nam War. But Britain, and parts of Western Europe, have been breeding some trouble spots that could cause business setbacks there—and in time here. And both Britain and the Common Market tend to blame the United States for some of their present and potential difficulties.

Rate of Growth Down

In this country there is debate over whether the economy is slowing down, or is about to. In most of Europe the rate of growth is definitely smaller this year than last, and well below the rate in the United States. This slowdown follows years of unusual growth in Western Europe, with the rate notably higher than in the United States.

Britain is especially hard hit now. In 1964 its economy expanded over the previous year by 5.7 per cent. This year the growth is estimated at 2.5 per cent or so by the First National City Bank of New York.

The British industrial lag has failed to meet the demands for goods of the almost wholly employed British population. They have turned to imports to get what they want and have the money to buy.

Source of Trouble

And that's where the pound sterling is in trouble. The excess of imports over exports has put a strain on the pound. To pay for these imports, Britain finds other currencies are in demand, and the pound isn't.

Last fall the United States had to go to the aid of the pound. With other nations it furnished a fund the Bank of England could draw upon to defend the value of the pound against speculators who were dumping their holdings because they thought the pound would have to be devalued.

Again the British government is seeking to curb imports, boost exports, and ward off speculators as the pound weakens. If Britain's efforts don't succeed, the United States may have to help again.

With its hands full in Viet Nam and at home, the United States doesn't relish prospects of increasing economic problems across the Atlantic.

Quadraplegic Adjusts Self In New Job With Peace Corps

By DON CARSON
WASHINGTON (AP)—"It was just a matter of adjusting my thinking to this way of life."

Thomas H. (Mickey) Countee Jr. hitched himself up in his wheel chair. An open folder lay on his desk in the Peace Corps office where he puts in 40 hours a week screening overseas applications.

Device for Telephoning
Strapped to his arm were two metal splints. One held a container to steady his pen; the other a tubular device for telephoning dialing.

At 25—he will be 26 on Aug. 7—Countee has spent seven years in what he calls "this way of life."

He is a wheel chair-bound quadraplegic. An accident in 1958 left his legs paralyzed; his arms partly so.

He has worked full time for the Peace Corps for the past three years, winning during that time a bachelor's degree from Washington's American University and financing two years at Georgetown University's four-year law school.

Hope for Own Practice
Ultimately, Countee hopes to practice in New York.

Seven years ago, his thoughts were far from New York and the law.

He had completed his second year at Harvard and like many 19-year-old college boys was unwinding during the summer. He was at a Chesapeake Bay beach in Maryland when his world was shattered.

He dove from a pier. His head struck the sand. The impact crushed his spinal cord.

For three months he lay in a hospital; for a year he strained with the pain that stems from a rehabilitation program.

Enters Outside World
At last, he returned to his parents' home in Washington. Slowly during that first year he re-entered the world outside the hospital. He took one college course. The next year he enrolled for a full load.

Countee can't pinpoint one factor as helping him transfer from the world of physical normalcy to that of the handicapped.

"Support from the family and friends and the best medical care—these things sustained me," he said.

"Perhaps the greatest effect it had on me initially," he said, "was the way it affected my family. I knew the expenses would be heavy. I had one brother in prep school, and another about to start."

Father Is Lawyer
The family consists of his brothers and parents. His father is a lawyer and high school teacher; his mother is a social worker.

The brothers did get to prep school, and one is now a junior at Stanford. The other will enter Syracuse University this fall.

His status has some advantages, he said.

"Just by virtue of being handicapped you develop a little more patience, a little more perseverance."

Lindsay Tired, Plans Vacation

NEW YORK (AP) — One mayoral aspirant says he will not challenge designating petitions of his opponents to be filed next week, while another candidate has announced he will take a vacation.

Both items are almost unheard of in New York City politics.

City Comptroller Abraham D. Beame, one of four major Democratic mayoral nomination candidates, said Tuesday he will waive all rights to contest the petitions. He asked the other three, Council President Paul R. Sorensen, Councilman Paul O'Dwyer and Rep. William F. Ryan, to join him in the maneuver.

Meanwhile, Republican Rep. John V. Lindsay, the Republican-Liberal party designee for mayor, set next week for a vacation.

Lindsay, who set precedent by starting his campaign May 13, has been out seeking votes without letup. Now, he says he's tired.

Lindsay's campaign will be 12 weeks old Thursday. Without a break, it would have run almost six months, a period political observers feel is too long to sustain widespread interest.

It has not been decided how long a vacation Lindsay will take or where he will go.

300 Push Maine Search for Boys

MILLINOCKET, Maine (AP) — Some 300 men searched for the fifth consecutive day today for a mentally-retarded diabetic and his little brother in a mountain area 20 miles northwest of here.

Robbie Mott, who is 17 but has a mental age of 7, disappeared Friday with his 3-year-old brother, Timothy, from the camp where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Mott of Rochester, N.Y., were staying.

The search originally concentrated in a four-square-mile area around the family's roaring brook campsite at the base of mile-high Mt. Katahdin.

But now 50 searchers have moved seven miles north toward Russell Pond, while another group moved about six miles south.

Robbie needs a daily dose of insulin. Warden supervisor David Priest said at least one physician indicated the relative absence of sugar in the woods might permit a diabetic to live for awhile without the drug.

CONGRESS LOOKS AT ITSELF

In the midst of one of the most crowded schedules of any peacetime Congress, that body found time to begin a major examination of its organization and operation—the first in 20 years and only the second in its history.

This was the Joint Committee on the Organization of the Congress, set up in May of this year. Like its counterpart in 1945, the committee is expected to come up with a list of much-needed reforms. None of them, however, according to one lawmaker, will be very fundamental or far-reaching.

The reason, charges Sen. Joseph S. Clark, Democrat from Pennsylvania, is that the present committee is laboring under the same prohibition as its predecessor: It may not recommend reforms regarding the rules, parliamentary procedures, practices or precedents of either house.

"Trying to reform the Congress without revising and modernizing its rules and procedures," says Clark, "is like trying to cure a patient ill with appendicitis without operating. It cannot be done."

Some kind of drastic surgery is needed, he says, if Congress is to regain the capacity for prompt and effective action it must have to meet the challenges of the modern world.

The senator sees a world-wide historic trend, marked by the progressive gravitation of governmental power and initiative away from legislative into executive branches.

The American development of this trend has witnessed the increasingly negative role of Congress and the impairment of its power to act positively.

At the present time, the productivity of Congress is so high that we tend to ignore the creakings and groanings in its internal machinery, he says.

But this good record is due chiefly to two factors: A President whose skills in dealing with Congress are unprecedented, and the overwhelming Democratic majorities in both houses resulting from the Goldwater debacle.

In Clark's view, it is precisely because of these two factors that the time for congressional reform is now, lest the legislative branch decline into being nothing more than a rubber stamp or, at the opposite extreme, a roadblock.

THEY ALSO SERVE

It may not be possible to base an economy on a system whereby everybody takes in everybody else's washing, but the United States seems to be moving toward something not too different from that.

According to a report from the National Bureau of Economic Research, more Americans are engaged in performing services for other people than are employed in the actual production of tangible products. The figures at present are 55 per cent of the working force in service industries, 45 per cent in production industries.

"Service" is an extremely broad category, however. It includes those people we think of immediately — such as appliance and automobile repairmen and deliverymen — but it also embraces such fields as medicine, banking, teaching and government. President Johnson is a serviceman.

While some argue that the labeling of certain occupations as service and others as production is often arbitrary and questionable and that there is much overlapping, the fact remains that because of modern technology fewer and fewer people are turning out more and more goods every year.

We are the first nation in history to reach this stage, and it is a revolutionary achievement.

DROPOUTS THAT HURT

Before we make any headway in solving the student dropout problem, says an education professor, we will have to do something about the high dropout rate among teachers.

According to Robert N. Bush of Stanford University, more than half the new teachers who receive their certificates each June will not be teaching two years later. And about the same number teaching in their first year do not intend to be teaching five years later.

'Sea Water'

By BILL McCORMICK
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NEW YORK (NEA)—Scraping the bottom of the barrel during a prolonged drought, scientists and engineers have come up with what promises to be the eventual solution to most of the world's water problems.

After centuries of trying, they have finally figured out a practical way to clean up sea water for everyday use.

There have always been two major drawbacks to desalting water from the oceans for public consumption — cost and taste.

Through the use of nuclear power and the manufacture of a valuable sideline, the boys with the slide rules have licked the cost factor. They can now deliver desalted sea water at or near the cost of the kind that falls from the sky.

Those attending a conference on a muggy day in Connecticut — where much of the desalination equipment was developed — did not know they were being served desalted water until they were told that only the day before it had been in highly saline Long Island Sound.

The process will be put into operation at the first nuclear-powered desalination plant to be built at Riverhead, on New York's Long Island, at a cost of $3.5 million. The plant will produce one million gallons of fresh water a day upon completion in 1968 and can be stepped up to five million gallons.

The water will be purchased by the Riverhead community at a price ranging from 35 cents per 1,000 gallons the first year to 45 cents in the 11th and succeeding years. New York City values its water at 12 cents per 1,000 gallons in the reservoirs, but this is based on the use of facilities paid for long ago when things were cheaper. Authorities estimate it would cost much more to get water from sources opened up today.

"A 500-million-gallon-a-day desalination plant would take care of about half of New York City's needs under restricted conditions," said Oliver Townsend, chairman of the New York State Atomic and Space Development Authority and one of the men responsible for the Riverhead setup. "No exact figures are available, but an educated guess is that it would cost $500 million to build and would produce water at about 15 cents per 1,000 gallons if operated on the Riverhead principle."

The gimmick in the Riverhead project is not only the use of nuclear power, but the production of isotopes as a by-product.

"There is a rising market for isotopes," said Townsend. Particularly for preserving foods by irradiation. The food and drug administration already has authorized the irradiation of potatoes, wheat and bacon and has a long list of other products waiting for approval. As long as the market for isotopes stays firm, plants such as Riverhead, will have no difficulty producing fresh water at a reasonable cost."

The Riverhead project, designated SURFSIDE (for Small Unified Reactor Facility with Systems for Isotopes, Desalting and Electricity), also will turn out electricity as another sideline.

The SURFSIDE plant works almost exactly on the same principle (except for its power) as a moonshiner's still in the hilly country. Salt water is flash-heated into steam, which is condensed by cooling, leaving the salt behind. This process is repeated numerous times until the water is far more pure than required by any board of health.

"One of the ways the desalted product could be used would be to mix it with water which is not quite up to required standards, like blending whiskey," said Townsend. "This could stretch out the natural water supply considerably."

The amount of water required per capita varies considerably, depending largely on the amount of industrial development in the area served. In New York City the consumption is 154 gallons per capita. As a rule of thumb, engineers estimate 100 gallons a day per person. Domestic consumption, for laundry, drinking purposes, toilet flushing, etc., is figured at an average of 50 gallons a day per person.

Walter Holder, vice president of Cuno Engineering Company in Meriden, Conn., which developed the desalting apparatus and helped hit upon the plan to reduce costs by producing isotopes, says the Riverhead plant will not only break even in operation, but will amortize its debts within 25 years.

President Johnson and Mayor Robert Wagner, of New York, both have turned close attention to desalination as a possible solution to the nation's — and the northeastern United States' — water shortage problem.

The northeastern seaboard has been particularly hard hit because rainfall in the watershed area has been far below normal for four years. Meteorologists attribute this to a shift in the behavior pattern of prevailing westerly winds, which blow at from one to five miles high.

Winds which flow from southwest to northeast tend to rise, cool off and form clouds which condense into rain over the land, where it is stored for future use. When the flow is northwest to southeast, the tendency is for the air to dry up, or carry moisture far to sea instead of releasing it over the storage area.

"A year or so more of this, and we'll be in real trouble," said Townsend. "Then we can really prove plants like SURFSIDE are worth their salt."

Many Uncertainties Remain
In Diabetes Treatment

By WAYNE G. BRANDSTADT, M.D.
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

The more we know about diabetes, the more we find we don't know. This disease affects about four million persons in this country but half of them are not yet aware that they have it. Furthermore their number is increasing faster than the rate of increase in the population.

Diabetes is a disturbance in the body's internal chemistry that leads to high levels of glucose in the blood. When this level exceeds a certain point this sugar spills over through the kidneys into the urine.

There are two distinct types of diabetes. Juvenile diabetes develops before the age of 15 in children who are for the most part underweight. The pancreas in these diabetics produces little or no insulin and injections of this hormone must be given to control the disease. The new oral antidiabetic drugs are of no avail. Regulating the insulin dosage is very difficult in these persons because the insulin demand, even on a carefully calculated diet, is apt to fluctuate from day to day. About 20 per cent of diabetics are of this type.

In the rest the disease develops over 40. These diabetics are usually overweight. Most of them could control their disease by bringing their weight down to normal and adhering to an adequate, balanced diet with a prescribed proportion of carbohydrate, protein and fat. For some unknown reason most of these persons find it almost impossible to do this. Although insulin may help these diabetics they are usually not dependent on it. They are benefited by oral antidiabetic drugs.

In this type of diabetes there is a definite hereditary factor. The most surprising thing about these diabetics is the discovery that they produce normal or more than normal amounts of insulin. For some as yet unknown reason they are unable effectively to use the insulin put out by the pancreas.

Unfortunately these are the diabetics who are most likely to get such complications as gangrene of the toes, neuritis and damage to the heart, kidneys and retina. It is now believed that these are due to the excess of insulin in the blood rather than to an excess of glucose.

Until more is learned about how to increase the use of the insulin in the blood of these diabetics a redoubled effort must be made to reduce their weight and control their disease with diet and oral drugs. More effective steps must also be taken to discover this disease in its earliest or prediabetic stage and prevent it from developing.

Dropouts

Washington News

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. (NEA)—No more than two of the 17 Republican governors assembled at the governor's conference here appear to have any 1968 presidential potential—and even that may be stretching it a little.

The obvious top figure is Michigan's handsome Governor George Romney. But when he met the press he got himself so enmeshed in verbal underbrush that he did his cause no good.

Already burdened with a reputation for sanctimony and lone wolfism, Romney cannot afford to become stamped as a man destined to wander in the rhetorical wilderness.

Gov. Mark Hatfield of Oregon, almost certain to be a candidate for the U. S. Senate in 1966, made by far the most forceful impression this time, with precise comment on Viet Nam and federal-state relations.

HIS CLASSIC HANDICAP is Oregon's small electoral vote status, but one western governor says this need not be a total bar if Hatfield keeps on doing well. Lip service still is paid to the prospects of Gov. William Scranton of Pennsylvania, but his showing here seems in fact to have brought him to very low estate.

When he canceled a press conference because he really had nothing to say, no loud murmur of protest arose. His remark on a national television show that he did not think his appetite for the presidency "particularly good" gave fresh tone to his old image as the repugnant Hamlet of Harrisburg. Beyond these, the GOP governors' cupboard, though it contains such attractive types as John Love of Colorado, Daniel Evans of Washington and John Chafee of Rhode Island, is really bare.

THE 1968 PICKINGS are not much better outside the governors' circle. The roster of 32 Republican senators offers one, Sen. Thomas Kuchel of California, but he would draw attention only if he ran for and won the governorship of California next year.

On many tongues is the name of Rep. John Lindsay, running now for mayor of New York City. But he has to win, and then cut deep into New York's mountain of barnacle-encrusted problems.

The 1960 nominee, Richard Nixon, just about completes the list: He is busy banking credit by making dozens of speeches for 1966 GOP congressional candidates. Goldwaterites and other conservatives often mention him favorably.

Nevertheless, some governors here think his name is being used now as a "safe harbor" while party leaders wait to see how Romney, Hatfield, Lindsay and one or two others perform in the next 18 months.

"I think Dick has gone beyond his time,"

Though Nixon is no older, the sterner governor thinks the constant infusion of larger and larger numbers of young people into voting ranks may one day soon make the former vice president seem like an "old party." The governor adds:

"All of a sudden the older types may look to the young folk like Homer Caphart (an aging Indiana senator beaten in 1962)."

THOUGH GEORGE ROMNEY will be 61 in 1968, his ruggedly youthful appearance and style make him probably the only man much beyond 50 who could get any serious consideration. A Minnesota leader says:

"We ought to keep our eye on Romney pretty closely."

for no newcomers to emerge in time to make headway.

There is also considerable agreement that whoever gains the prize will have to go the arduous, vote-getting primary route. Little disposition exists at this time to hand it to anyone who has merely proved himself on the banquet trail.

The governors are hunting for a winner more than just, a warmly appreciated performer of party favors.

A DAY IN THE LIFE OF A KING—CONCLUSION

At 1:30 p. m. Simeon II, King of the Bulgarians, goes to his plane room in Madrid. There he reads the Herald-Tribune, Time Magazine, German newspapers, Swiss, Italian, the papal Osservatore Romano. He reads swiftly and superficially. Political information is his meat and drink. When the noonday is warm, Simeon II perspires. He will not have air conditioning because someone told that it is bad for his circulation.

At 2 p. m. the queen has returned from shopping, and she and His Majesty adjourn to the downstairs dining room. There, lunch is majestically informal. Simeon, bright and smiling, sits at the head of the table, the queen to his right, Mrs. Radka Greuff, Bulgarian secretary to the queen on his left, and the impervious Col. Guentcheff to the queen's right. Sometimes there are transient guests, such as Mr. Nicholas Morley of Miami.

Lunch consists of cold Spanish gazpacho (soup), veal cutlet, mashed potatoes rolled into precise wrinkles, a glass of wine, rolls and ice cream. When the meal is over, the king suggests that they adjourn to the big drawing room for coffee and a free exchange of ideas.

This room is festooned with huge paintings of kings, queens, princes, and inscribed portraits in silver frames. A picture window admits light from the villa gardens and the tall firs. Today, the king discusses the work of the Council of One Hundred, a unit of distinguished expatriots of Bulgaria who work for the restoration of the monarchy and the death of Communism.

At 3 o'clock, Simeon is back upstairs in his bedroom watching the television news. He has a vital interest in the slightest swing of the political pendulum. A few years ago, when the Bulgarian Communists began to build furnaces, the king accurately predicted that his country would be swindled two ways: (1) They would be allowed to buy pig iron only from the Russians; (2) They would be allowed to sell steel only to the Russians.

In a half hour, he is back in the chancery, reading more letters, resolving quarrels between exiled Bulgarians; congratulating Bulgarians on wedding anniversaries, pointing the way to leaders to locate weaknesses in the Bulgarian Party structure. On Wednesdays, at this time, he receives delegations of people who want to meet His Majesty. In others, he goes over household bills with an accountant.

The work continues until sundown. The queen spends the later hours with the babies. The villa is quiet. Three baby birds in a nest of larks make the most noise under the eaves of a side porch. Often, King Simeon will stop work about 6:30 p. m. to rush off with the queen to see a movie. He likes comedies and war movies, and is an addict of the James Bond series. Her Majesty likes whatever the king likes.

If there is no movie, the couple often dres formally and go to a cocktail party at one of the many embassies in Madrid. The king does not care for these, but he is aware that non-attendance has given him a local reputation as a snob. So he goes. He is a man of intense nervous action, and has not learned to lounge with a drink in his hand. Should there be no movie or party to attend, the king walks

Today in World Affairs

U.S. Urged to Broadcast Time's Essay on Reds

BY DAVID LAWRENCE

WASHINGTON—Moral force can transcend military force in shaping the destiny of the world—if all available resources are used to transmit to peoples everywhere the realistic truths about the events that usually lead up to wars.

President Johnson today has an opportunity in the court of world opinion to advance the American case in Viet Nam by showing the true origin of the war and placing the responsibility where it belongs — on the shoulders of the Communists.

Time magazine in its current issue has an editorial essay entitled "Communism Today: a Refresher Course." It contains the facts about the growth of communism and the menace of its present-day operations throughout the world. The United States government has even more facts at its disposal, but the magazine article certainly furnishes the basis for an information effort of far-reaching significance that could well be undertaken by the American government. The Time essay says in part:

"Underground and in open combat, by subversion, terrorism, blackmail, riot and rhetoric, faithful Communists the world over have for decades waged a holy war against the rest of humanity. The tempo and techniques vary from era to era, from continent to continent. And the nature of communism changes. Whereas Moscow now claims the perilous confrontations that so often brought the cold war to boiling point, Peking grows ever more militant. For both capitals of world communism, the focal points of conflict have shifted from Europe to Africa, Latin America and—most notably—Southeast Asia, where the Johnson administration last week solemnly committed the U. S. to what could be a prolonged and painful war.

"Thus the Marxist dream of world domination is palpably no McCarthyist mirage. From Indonesia, where government-sanctioned mobs howled for the ouster of a newly arrived U. S. Ambassador, to Cuba, where Fidel Castro proclaimed that the imperialists will not prevent Red regimes from taking over throughout the hemisphere, it was also becoming clear last week that the U. S. would have to stand increasingly alone against the free world's enemies.

"Since the U.S.-Soviet 'detente' that developed after the 1962 Cuban missile crisis, more venerable and more qualified commentators also have begun to sound as if communism had quietly buried itself. Not long ago, the Manchester Guardian pronounced: 'The Russians and the Americans no longer have any reason to quarrel. And there is a widespread school of chop logic that maintains simultaneously: (1) Russia can no longer be seriously regarded as a threat to the West, and (2) by its firm stand in Southeast Asia, the U.S. is inviting Russian retaliation.

"Both premises are debatable at best; together, they are not an argument but a plea for passivity. The danger of such wishful thinking, as the State Department's Walt Rostow has warned, is that 'out of a false sense that the cold war is coming to an end, out of boredom or domestic preoccupations, or a desire to get on with purely national objectives, we will open up new opportunities for the Communists to advance.'"

The magazine article goes on to say that, while there have been some changes in Communist philosophy, "control over the world-wide Communist movement is still vested in special departments of the Soviet and Chinese central committees," and then adds:

"Of the world's 105 Communist parties, Moscow can count on 72, as against 21 for Peking. Twelve other Communist parties—mostly in Western Europe—are vaguely independent. In 1964, foreign aid by Communist countries amounted to $1.7 billion, of which Soviet funds accounted for half. Eastern European funds for a quarter. Of 17,530 Communist technicians working in foreign countries—a sharp rise from the preceding year—only 15 per cent were Chinese.

"One of the most effective instruments of Communist subversion remains the front organization. In McCarthy's heyday Communist terminology was tossed about too carelessly, and in many quarters today words and realities such as 'infiltration' no longer seem entirely credible. Yet the leading fronts still reflect the reality and breadth of the Communist subversive effort. They range from pacifist groups such as the World Peace Council—headquartered in Prague—and the International Institute of Peace—Vienna—to various youth and professional outfits such as the International Union of Students and the International Association of Democratic Lawyers — Prague and Brussels.

"Many launched by non-Communists with the best intentions and then taken over—are dominated by Soviet-line communism, although the Chinese are fighting hard to capture them and are setting up rival fronts of their own. Despite such dueling between the two Red giants, and to some extent in reply to it, Communist subversion proceeds apace, highly successful in some quarters, disastrously failing in others, but always at work."

The essay also declares that since 1960 Castro has trained guerrillas from most Latin American countries, and that "the 'readiness' to potential revolutionists" throughout Latin

América have been translated into different languages and publicized by the United States government itself in every country in the world, this could develop into a most effective crusade in which world opinion would be mobilized to prevent further wars and to bring a lasting peace. Yanks Beating Cong at Own Game--Raider Party Tactics

By JOHN T. WHEELER

HAN SON CHA Island, South Viet Nam (AP) — The American Marines stirred small swarms of Communist light as they paddled silently through the South China Sea on their first raider mission of the Viet Nam war.

Driving rain engulfed the seven rubber boats as they were launched from a Navy landing craft at 9:30 p.m. About 900 yards from the mountainous island where intelligence had reported a Viet Cong infiltration station. Intelligence also had said that 100 or more Communist guerrillas might be on the island 12 miles north of Da Nang.

The 54 Marines were on their own. If they hit a strong Viet Cong force, no help could come before dawn — more than nine hours away.

Capt. Patrick Collins of Grosse Ile, Mich., commanded the raiding party from his reconnaissance company.

Rain a Boon

"The damn rain's a blessing," he said. "We should make it close to shore without being seen."

The dim mountain mass of Han Son Cha loomed ahead. A Marine rifleman muttered, "Thank God we don't have to do this every night."

Then all talking ceased except the whispered commands from Collins and the coxswains in the rubber rafts, strung out at five-yard intervals.

Many of the men were new to the reconnaissance outfit, replacements for a unit that has suffered proportionally higher casualties than any other single American combat unit in Viet Nam.

The rain slackened and then stopped.

Scout in Front

Ahead was a narrow beach. One boat with a machine gun lashed onto the bow went in ahead as scout. During the agonizing moments that followed an enemy could have wiped out the small party with ease.

Then a red light flashed from the beach. The way was clear.

The small boats formed in two lines three abreast and the paddlers moved swiftly over the last 50 yards of water. The Marines beached their boats and charged inland to take up defensive positions.

Two elements were sent out on night patrol to fix if possible any Viet Cong camp on the mile-square but mostly straight up and down island. The remainder rotated watches and slept on the beach.

Renewed rain made life miserable and sleep difficult.

All Volunteers

Reconnaissance companies are made up wholly of volunteers.

At 6 a.m. two fresh patrols were sent out. One headed by Lt. Camrine S. Del Grosso of Manhattan, New York, was to cover the western half of the island. After passing by the crest of the 225-foot tallest peak, Del Grosso split his group in two.

Gunnery Sgt. Daniel H. Miller of Reading, Pa., went down toward the rocky coast to check for caches in caves while the rest of the element searched tangled jungle along the steep slopes.

Two-War Veteran

Miller, part American Indian and veteran of both World War II and Korea, moved cautiously, examining trails to see how long ago branches had been cut and were armed by campers.

Campfire Ceremony

On Saturday night the traditional closing campfire was held. During the campfire program advancement awards to the scouts in various troops in attendance were announced. Putting on a humorous skit, as usual, was the camp staff.

The fourth camping week was brought to an end on Sunday. Scouts worshiped in camp as Protestant and Catholic services were conducted. The closing ceremonies were held on the camp parade ground where the campers received their 1965 Camp Tri-Mount stripes. The ceremony was closed with the sounding of retreat by the camp bugler.

picking up odd clues left by earlier visitors, for examination by intelligence experts at Da Nang. The day's search turned up no Viet Cong but unearthed a concealed Communist trail up one side of the mountain mass. One Marine was evacuated by helicopter after he was attacked by a swarm of bees. A second deeply slashed his leg while cutting through the undergrowth with a machete.

Collins is convinced the tactic will help in the future. In part it plays the Viet Cong's own game — striking swiftly and unexpectedly and pulling out before the enemy can mass large forces for a counterattack.

Secret Servicemen Donning New Incognito Costumes

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — The century-old Secret Service has taken on protective coloration, so to speak, in its old age.

One veteran agent on the White House detail has been dubbed "Canon," for clerical garb and not "cannon" for the gun bulging beneath his jacket.

In surprise and cassock, he sat with the choir and blended in with other black and white clad figures when President Johnson attended high school graduation exercises for daughter Luci at Washington National Cathedral.

On a couple of occasions when Johnson delivered college commencement addresses this spring, as at Baylor University in Waco, Tex., agents in cap and gown strolled just behind the President in the academic processions.

This clerical and academic attire is something new, since the assassination of President John F. Kennedy. It typifies an expanded effort by the Secret Service to tighten security, stick close to the President's side everywhere, but still be unobtrusive on ceremonial or similar occasions.

There always has been a measure of attempts to fit into the scene rather than to stand out. When presidents in sports clothes went boating or golfing or walking, agents went along in sports clothes, too.

For formal, white tie and tails events, Secret Service men whose posts are nearest the President turn out in white tie and tails, at considerable personal expense. Either they have to buy formal clothes or rent them at $12.50 or more for an evening.

Dwight D. Eisenhower was the golfing president. And on golf courses agents accompanied him carrying golf bags stuffed with clubs plus a Tommy gun.

It's impossible for Secret Service men to work under complete secrecy when they have to be on the job before crowds that range at times into the hundreds of thousands.

Sometimes, especially in motorcades similar to the one in which Kennedy was riding when he was shot, they don't try to.

In the open car behind the President, packed with agents and hanging on the running boards that are special equipment, there are men with automatic rifles at the ready — rifles that can be seen readily. Every agent is a practiced marksman. And in the Secret Service car, one of them with a rifle always rides backward now, scanning streets and buildings and windows and rooftops toward the rear — because it was shots from behind that killed Kennedy.

State Outlook

Farm Income Is Up $19 Million Over 1964 Figure

WASHINGTON (AP) — New York State's total farm income for the first five months of this year is up $19 million in comparison with a similar period last year.

Cash receipts during the 1965 period rose to $370 million.

The Agriculture Department said 805 emergency loans totaling $1,485,620 were approved during the fiscal year ending June 30. Most of the loans went to dairymen suffering from drought.

The Agriculture Department already has allowed farmers in 46 Upstate counties to cut hay and graze cattle on land they took out of production under government programs.

Farmers in the following 36 counties are eligible for the emergency loans or may cut hay and graze cattle on the idle land.

4,951 New Voters

NEW YORK (AP) — The city signed 4,951 new voters during the first two weeks of its summer registration drive, a spokesman says.

He said that 2,853 persons were enrolled last week at the 10 mobile units stationed throughout the city. This compares with 2,098 signed up the first week.

Delaware, Dutchess, Essex, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Herkimer, Jefferson, Lewis, Montgomery, Otsego, Rensselaer, St. Lawrence, Saratoga, Schoenectady, Seneca, Schuyler, Steuben, Sullivan, Tioga, Tompkins, Ulster, Washington and Yates.

Farmers in Erie, Genesee, Livingston, Monroe, Niagara, Ontario, Orleans, Seneca, Wayne and Wyoming counties are eligible to cut hay and graze cattle on government land, but may not now apply for loans.

Farmers in the following counties may apply for loans only:

Hamilton, Madison, Oneida, Suffolk and Warren.

TV Reviews, Best Bets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Paul Henning, who achieved fame by rubbing country folk against city ways in "The Beverly Hillbillies," now plans to take a Manhattan lawyer and his wife from an East River penthouse to a crumbling farmhouse — far from dry martinis and iced caviar.

Henning's new show, "Green Acres," will feature such spectacles as a new farmer's wife, in a film Jean Louis negligee, chasing a rooster around the yard pleading with it please to produce three eggs for breakfast.

In what may prove to be a truly inspired bit of casting, Henning has Eva Gabor as Eddie Albert's wife.

The show will be in color. And Miss Gabor's high-style costumes promise to be the greatest fashion treat the feminine audience has had in a long time. The youngest Gabor sister, an established television personality on conversation shows, will be making her debut in a series. After six weeks she is utterly enchanted with her new assignment.

"Darling, it is going ridiculously well," she exclaimed. "Of course I adore Eddie, so when even my father-in-law said to go ahead and make the test, I did. Then it happened so fast I raced back to New York to make sure that the house — my beautiful house — would be running smoothly for Richard, my husband, and then back here to rent a house in Beverly Hills for myself because my beautiful little cottage out here I had unfortunately rented. The important thing, darling, is Richard because I would not put anything in front of my marriage."

Richard Brown, Eva's husband of six years, is a Wall Street broker.

"The poor darling now is flying out here every weekend, and that isn't good for him. So after the show is running smoothly on schedule, I will fly to him weekends, but it is very expensive."

Eva, despite taking the role on short notice, has had few problems. Even collecting the elaborate wardrobe was a cinch.

"Darling, I am model size — 6 or 8 — and I fit in the clothes perfectly with only a little shortening," she said. "And the show is so funny. Last week we ruined three scenes because the man up on the scaffold got to laughing and shook up the lighting."

Eva, incidentally, will be sporting some very fancy jewelry.

"My own," she said. "But it is all paste — I've been terrified since we were robbed and I was almost killed in Miami last year. Now I will wear only paste. And I want everyone to know it, darling, so that nobody else will get any bad ideas."

Why Car Stealing Is a Cinch

By BILL MCCORMICK
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

NORTH BERGEN, N. J. (NEA) — Any thief who can't steal an American automobile in 3½ minutes — without keys — ought to be arrested, according to a practicing professional.

"The auto manufacturers make theft easy," says private detective Ed Wallis. "There is one make on which you can unlock the door by merely slamming your first against it."

"But on any car there is practically no defense against a pro or clever amateur," continued Wallis, who operates his own business in North Bergen and specializes in "stealing back" cars from all over the continental United States for delinquent finance payments.

"Nothing is being done about it except by one manufacturer, whose 1965 models have double-tumbler ignition locks. This makes them more difficult, but not impossible, to pick—and the ignition wiring can still be jumped."

In some European countries auto theft insurance is not valid unless wheels are locked by special devices on parked cars. Wallis believes this might be a good idea over here. He also advocates armor-plating all electrical wiring that can be jiggled to start a car, "the way they do cords on public telephones in neighborhoods where people steal receivers just for practice." Steering wheel locks and stamping identification numbers on car bodies instead of putting them on serial plates which can easily be removed also would help, he believes.

"Most thefts are by amateurs who just want a ride," Wallis said. "About 75 percent of vehicles are found abandoned, usually not far from where they were stolen."

"Most professional thefts are not for resale, but for parts. A crooked garage man will pass the word that he wants fenders for a blue '65 Caddy. The pros will wait until they spot such a car, steal it and deliver it to the garage where not only the fenders, but everything else that isn't serialized is removed."

Wallis admits that manufacturers stamp hidden marks on certain parts of their cars for identification, but refuses to say what or where they are.

heisted not for the vehicle, but for the load.

"These are grabbed on order," said Wallis. "Advance arrangements have been made, especially when the load is perishable, such as eggs or shrimp."

Under federal law, the FBI can go after any stolen motor vehicle—whatever its value—that crosses a state line. But trailer and its contents must be worth $5,000 or more before the G-men can take hold.

Wallis, who operates with full legal authority, learned his trade from automotive engineers and policemen. The tools he uses were made by the widow of one of the slickest car thieves in the business.

Wallis is licensed to carry a gun, but has only once been forced to use it. He shot it out with a delinquent payee who thought Wallis as illegal thief and opened fire from a window.

In 1964 Wallis and his assistant recovered 2,323 units, including small craft and yachts, which are becoming big items.

He belongs to two co-operative organizations — Allied Finance Adjusters Conference and National Finance Adjusters—which blanket the United States, Canada and Mexico.

While being interviewed, Wallis completed recovery of a car purchased in California, from where it had disappeared. Operatives had discovered the purchaser had a girl friend in New Jersey. Wallis was tipped off to be on the look out. Somehow he learned the girl had an illness that required medication. He had operatives telephone every drug store in the New Jersey area where the girl lived, to ask if the prescription in her name was ready.

The prescription was finally located and picked up—and it gave the address at which the car recovery was made. The man from whom the car was "stolen back" still doesn't know how it happened.

No Birthday

Only man known to history who had no birthday was Robert Louis Stevenson, because he gave it to a little girl whom he found crying. She had been born on Christmas Day and felt she had no birthday.

Kids Dog Show At Rec Field

The annual Ken-L-Ration Kids Dog Show has been scheduled for Monday, Aug. 9 at 2 p. m. at the Andy Lee Recreation Field on Rock City Road in Woodstock.

Boys and girls, between the ages 5 and 12 inclusive, may enter their dogs in up to any three of the seven categories: 1—Largest dog, 2—Smallest dog, 3—Longest tail, 4—Shortest tail, 5—Best trick dog, 6—Best cared for dog, 7—Best cared for dog, girl.

Dogs must be at least six months old and must be on a leash. The child must handle the dog without adult assistance.

Entry blanks are available at the Andy Lee Field Monday through Friday from 9 until 4:30.

Each entrant will receive an identification tag for his or her dog, a dog leash, a can of Ken-L-Ration Dog Food and a dog book. First, second and third place winners in each of the seven categories will receive a cup, ribbon and T shirt.

The first place winners will compete in Best of Show competition where the first place prize is a choice of a large paint set or pencil box.

All entrants in the Woodstock Ken-L-Ration Kids Dog Show will be eligible to enter the Dog Show at the Ulster County Fair. Best of Show prize at the fair is a bicycle.

Mysterious objects seen by 125,000 people a month!

Minutes away from the heart of modern Mexico City lies the new National Museum of Anthropology. A famous U.S. architect has called it "the greatest museum in the world."

The museum is typical of Mexico's many modern innovations based on its ancient cultural heritage. Its futuristic galleries contain more than 100,000 archeological objects from civilizations that were forgotten long before Columbus set sail from the old world. The museum attracts more than 125,000 visitors a month, people vitally interested in Mexico's mysterious past.

If you would like to know more about Mexico's past, its present or its future, write for the free booklet, "Know Mexico," Box 1900, New York 10019.

Presented in the interest of international goodwill by The Advertising Council, USA, the Consejo Nacional de la Publicidad, Mexico and the Newspaper Advertising Executives Association.

Vols Eye More Land to Meet Future Expansion

WOODSTOCK — The growth of the area prompted members of Woodstock Fire Co. No. 3 of Lake Hill to appoint a committee, headed by Walter Stone, to acquire additional land adjacent to the firehouse for future expansion.

Meeting in monthly session Tuesday night, the firemen considered the many new buildings in their territory and decided that "the day was not far off when additional fire protection would be a necessity."

The fire company is currently constructing a second tank truck because of water shortages, and room to house additional equipment will be needed.

The possibility of purchasing a thousand gallon portable tank also was considered, so that in the operation of two tank trucks, water could be dumped at the scene of the fire without the tankers were shuttling between the water source and the fire.

Other matters included the need for action on a siren for the firehouse to replace the original equipment which has ceased to function, the proposed installation of truck radios on the two tank trucks, preparations for the annual fund drive, and the pledge of cooperation to the Mutual Aid system.

Richard Peters, chairman of the fund drive, announced at the meeting that the drive would begin August 15, and firemen were assigned territories to cover. Peters displayed the new fund drive leaflets which explain in detail the services available by Fire Co. No. 3, and requested firemen to make every effort to cover their areas so that funds to operate the current services and provide new services would be available.

Captain Alfred Ostrander reported two successful drills for July and reminded firemen of the drill on Sunday, Aug. 8, at 2 p. m. at the firehouse. Lt. Donald Smith will be in charge of the Sunday drill. Captain Ostrander also appointed the following firemen for daily station check through the first week in September: Paul Shultis, Arthur Smith, Donald Smith, Otto Sonenberg, Walter Stone and Bruce Taylor.

Rotary Barbecue Set for Saturday

Members of the Rotary Club of Woodstock will put on their fourth annual chicken barbecue on Saturday, Aug. 7, at the Recreation Field. The gala event which will be held under a spacious tent, rain or shine, provides funds for Rotary's book scholarships to deserving pupils of the Ontario School District, to help defray college expenses, and for Rotary's other community projects.

Maverick Concert Highly Praised

The Philharmonic Trio opened its series of concerts at the Maverick Concert Hall Monday night with an outstanding performance of works by Mozart, Perichetti, and Smetana. The small audience which braved the rain and dampness was rewarded with playing of great beauty and sensitivity.

The opening Mozart Trio — a lesser known work, K. 542 — was played with true Mozartian delicacy and gracefulness. The following work by Perichetti was a surprise to those who expected the composition of a lesser known early Italian composer. Instead, Mr. Perichetti is one of America's more lyric contemporary composers. His work was full of subtle shadings and pleasing rhythms.

A trio by the great Czech composer Smetana consumed the second half of the concert. Written shortly after the death of his daughter, the work is filled with personal grief and resignation. The soloistic, impassioned writing is reminiscent of his Quartet — Aus Meinem Leben. The flowing of phrases into phrases reminds one of the growing rivers in his Moldau. Lifting Czech folk melodies intersperse this otherwise somber composition.

The performance was equal to the many moods of the work. A special bouquet goes to the pianist for truly big and noble playing of a very difficult piano part. An unexpected encore — the Scherzo from an earlier Mozart Trio — provided the cheering audience ample compensation for leaving home on a foggy and damp night.

The Philharmonic Trio is one of this country's outstanding chamber music groups. Mr. Libove — also first violinist with the Beaux Arts Quartet — plays with great warmth on his Guadagnini violin. His wife, the pianist, (the pianist, his wife) plays with clarity and sensitivity. Alan Shulman on the cello is perhaps the least outstanding of the three, but his playing is refined and ample. Connoisseurs of really superb chamber music ensemble should be admonished to attend en masse the remaining three concerts, on Thursday and Saturday at 8:30 p. m., and Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Gladstone Exhibits Are Well Received

The three-man exhibits of paintings by Elden Rowland and Craig Rubadoux and sculpture by Irving Lehman, which opened last Saturday afternoon at Gladstone Galleries, attracted a large and enthusiastic audience and many out-of-state visitors have been coming daily to see the work of these three well-known and outstanding artists.

This exhibition, of special interest to serious collectors of contemporary painting and sculpture, will continue on view at the galleries until Aug. 13. The canvases of Craig Rubadoux are brilliant and intriguing. The sculptures of Lehman are described as "imaginative, masterful creations in living metal"; while Rowland's paintings are said to be "symphonic poems in color on canvas."

Visiting hours at Gladstone Galleries continue to be 1 to 6 daily, except Mondays.

Lutherans to Hear Guest Preacher

Robert Schmeelcke will be the guest preacher at Christ's Evangelical Lutheran Church for the next two Sundays. Mr. Schmeelcke is a graduate of Upsala College, East Orange, New Jersey and will begin his studies for the Lutheran ministry at the Lutheran Theological Seminary in Chicago in September. During the summer months he is serving as the Assistant Director of the Mt. Tremper Lutheran Camp. Mr. Lawrence Deede of West Hurley, vice president of the congregation, will preside at the meeting of the Church Council on Tuesday, August 10 at 8 p. m. in the absence of Pastor Krapf who will be away on vacation.

Florida Man Cited By Leeds Troopers

A Florida man was cited by Leeds State Police Tuesday afternoon for four motor vehicle law violations, following a two-car collision on Spruce Street, Tannersville.

State Police Sergeant G. E. Brown reported Golden Young, 62, Tannersville, was driving west on Spruce Street at 2 p. m., and Leonard L. Brown, 48, of 312 23rd Street, West Palm Beach, was traveling east when his car reportedly pulled into the path of the other vehicle.

Trooper J. W. Miller summoned Brown on charges of reckless driving, failure to keep to the right, driving without a license and operating an unregistered motor vehicle. The summonses are returnable at a later date in justice court.

Probe Po'keepsie Theft

Theft of about $1,000 including $981 from a safe and the balance from a cash register at Schubert's Auto Supplies Inc., 2 Winnie Avenue, Poughkeepsie, today was under investigation by detectives in that city. Police Chief John L. Martin said the adjoining store of the Jem Supply Co., Inc. also was entered and about $12 taken by the intruder. The chief reported entrance to Schubert's was gained by placing a ladder in the Val-kill and climbing to a rear window. The front of the office safe was ripped open.

Luck Aids Desperation

BY JACOBY & SON

1965 Vanderbilt Cup Winners Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

In line with this week's discussion of misunderstandings Jim asks his father about his funniest lucky hand.

Oswald: "It was shortly before you were born. I was playing with your mother who was just learning contract. Hence my two no-trump response to her opening diamond bid."

Jim: "I assume that it was her custom to never take you out of no-trump contracts."

Oswald: "It still is but there are exceptions. This time she ran to four diamonds when I was doubled at three no-trump."

Jim: "I don't blame her. What's more she would have made four diamonds doubled if you had let her stay there."

Oswald: "So she would, but I tried four hearts. After all she had bid hearts. Then after hearts got the treatment I finally showed my club suit at the five level."

Jim: "I see mother went back to diamonds and continued on to six clubs whereupon she gave up the struggle and decided to let you work out your own problems."

Oswald: "It didn't turn out to be much of a problem. I played a low diamond from dummy at trick one and ruffed in my own hand. Then I led a heart. West romany, is based on ancient Sanskrit."

a second low diamond cleared up that suit and I led a second heart to West's ace. Eventually, I pulled trumps and made my brilliantly bid slam."

Jim: "I am not sure that brilliant is quite the right word but you did stagger into an unbeatable contract."

It generally is thought that gypsies came, not from Egypt as their name indicates, but from India, since their language, Romany, is based on ancient Sanskrit.

Local Attorney Attends Parley

Kingston Attorney Norman Kellar was among the prominent trial lawyers who actively participated in the American Trial Lawyers Association national convention at the Hotel Fontainebleau, Miami Beach, Fla., last week.

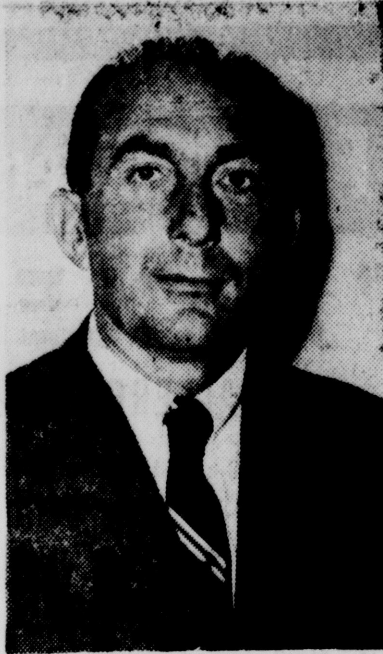

More than 5,000 trial lawyers from throughout the country gathered at the sunshine capital to explore and investigate the legal rights of millions and millions of Americans that face drastic changes in the latter part of the '60s.

Attorney Kellar took part in the day long Tort (accident) Law seminars held throughout the week.

The American Trial Lawyers focused their legal experience on the many problems arising from the Space Age and the Great Society. For instance, a vast increase in different types of industrial accidents threatens millions of American workers annually; poor auto design is a factor in seriously injuring the human body due to impact in an automobile accident; and private airplane crashes, increasing steadily, should and can be reduced by adopting simple safety measures.

Trousseau

Our word "trousseau" originated from the word "trusse" which referred to all the worldly goods a bride brought to her husband as a dowry or gift.

Vote Fire Raises

Paid drivers in the Fairview Fire District, Town of Poughkeepsie, were successful in their request for salary increases, when voters of the district approved pay raises of $600 for each of the four drivers, effective on Jan. 1, 1966. The vote was 48 to 15. The fire truck drivers work 56 hours a week. The present starting scale will be increased from $5,000 to $5,600 annually. Other phases of the increases are salaries of $5,600 will be raised to $6,200 after five years; $5,800 to $6,400 after 10 years; and after 15 years, $6,000 to $6,600.

Paltz Woman, Two Who Helped Treated for Burns

Mrs. Henry (Carolyn) DuBois, 56, of 14 North Oakwood Terrace, New Paltz, was reported in satisfactory condition at Kingston Hospital today, where she is under treatment for burns suffered in a mishap at her home.

According to a spokesman for Doctor's Ambulance Service, Mrs. DuBois apparently was lighting a cigarette when her dress caught fire. Mr. and Mrs. Richard Corwin, next door neighbors, saw Mrs. DuBois as she ran into the yard with her clothing in flames.

The Corwins ran to her aid, rolled her on the ground and beat out the flames. Mrs. DuBois was rushed to the New Paltz Medical Center, where she was treated for first, second and third degree burns of the body. She was later transferred to Kingston Hospital by Doctor's ambulance.

Mr. and Mrs. Corwin were treated at the New Paltz Medical Center for first and second degree burns of the hands, it was reported.

The mishap occurred at about 7 p. m. Tuesday.

N. J. Governor Rejects Locale For New Jetport

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) — Gov. Richard J. Hughes has rejected Solberg Airport in Readington Township as a possible site for a New Jersey jetport.

Hughes said Tuesday he was bound by a 1961 campaign pledge to oppose any attempt to build a jetport in a heavily populated area.

He excluded the Great Swamp of Morris County for this reason last Friday and added Solberg Tuesday.

Hughes repeated his pledge that the search for a jetport site would focus on the Burlington County pinelands. Hughes also said aviation experts would study the possibility of using McGuire Air Force Base to handle civilian traffic.

The search for a jetport site follows the rejection by the Port of New York Authority of sites in North Jersey and Pine Island, N.Y.

Oneonta Girl, 11, Is Dead From Car Mishap

ONEONTA, N.Y. (AP) — An 11-year-old girl was injured fatally Tuesday, police said, when an automobile driven by her 16-year-old sister left a rural road and hit a tree near here.

Nancy Laing of Oneonta was a passenger in the car driven by her sister, Gail, who is not a licensed driver State Police reported.

Troopers said that, under terms of state law, Gail should have been accompanied by an adult while driving.

Nancy was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Laing. Troopers said they would further investigate the accident.

Bakery Strike Ends At Williamsport, Pa.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (AP) — A baker's union has ended its four-week-old strike at Strohman Brothers Baking Co.

A company spokesman said Local 427, American Bakery and Confectionery Union, had agreed to a settlement providing for a three-year contract, wage increases totaling 23 cents an hour and an additional holiday beginning in 1966.

The spokesman said the settlement ended the strike at the two Williamsport plants and sympathy walkouts at Olean, N.Y., and Harrisburg and Norristown, Pa.

Killed by Truck

SAVANNAH, N. Y. (AP) — John Poorman, 33, of Fayette, N.Y., a road construction worker, was killed Tuesday when a dump truck struck him on Route 31 near this community about 20 miles east of Newark.

Dear Abby . . .

Think Twice, Honey!

Abigail Van Buren

DEAR ABBY: I am 22 and never finished high school. I went to work to help out as there were nine kids in our family, all younger than myself, and Dad wasn't much of a provider.

I met a man about six months ago who is 30 years older than I am. I went out with him at first with a lot of other people, never thinking he could be serious about me. Now he calls me every day inviting me to dinner, movies, dancing or anywhere I want to go. He is just wonderful to me, but he is terribly jealous. I know he will ask me to marry him and since living conditions aren't very pleasant at home, what should I do? I know he would take very good care of me, but is that enough? My mother says it's better to be an old man's darling than a young man's slave. Can you help me?

TEMPERED

DEAR TEMPERED: Your mother is right—if you MUST be either an old man's darling or a young man's slave. But jealousy can enslave you. And if you're going to be a "slave"—it's better to be a YOUNG man's slave.

DEAR ABBY: I have been married to a very fine widower for over a year and we are expecting a child soon. He says if it is a girl he would like to name it after his first wife, Abby, he has talked constantly about his first wife since we've been married. He also carries pictures of her around with him and shows them to people. He even compares me with her. I have never said anything to him about how hurt I am because I shouldn't be "jealous" of a poor woman who is dead, but I can't help it. He says he loves me, and I'm sure he does, but he is slowly breaking my heart. What do you suggest?

HEARTBROKEN

DEAR HEARTBROKEN: How insensitive can a man be? Of course, for you to suffer in silence is foolish. Tell him how you feel about his constant references to his first wife. And if you're wise, under no circumstances will you name your baby (if it's a girl) after her.

DEAR ABBY: We have been married almost 40 years and I have had all sorts of problems, but they seemed to work out all right. Now I have a new one I've never had before. Lately my husband has been talking in such a loud voice he embarrasses me to death. When we go shopping, everyone in the store turns around to look at him because he talks so loud. I just dread going out with him. Don't tell me to tell him to keep his voice down because I have, and he says, "I'M NOT TALKING ANY LOUDER THAN USUAL."

EMBARRASSED

DEAR EMBARRASSED: Suggest that your husband have his hearing checked. But don't whisper or he'll probably not hear you. I think he's become hard-of-hearing.

DEAR ABBY: The series of letters in your column dealing with patients who refused to surrender their dentures to the nurse just prior to surgery prompts this letter. I also dreaded removing my dentures under similar circumstances. I solved the problem with the help of an "aide." I asked her for a surgical mask to wear to and from the operating room. After I'm "under" I don't care who sees me. But I am terrified to the point of tears to be seen without my dentures. That surgical mask saved my pride.

MRS. S.

DO YOU REMEMBER By Sophie Miller

I have been trying to get a photograph of the two portraits I understand John Vanderlyn did of Fulton, So far no success. I did get an excellent self-portrait of Fulton. Early in life Fulton made a living painting portraits and miniatures, and saved enough to buy a farmstead for his widowed mother and the little children.

The New York State Historical Society has an 8 by 10 black and white print of the cast iron bell of the "Clermont" which they sell for $2.00, also photographs of Fulton's self-portrait, and steamboat Clermont or North River after she had been enlarged for passenger service and her paddle wheels were enclosed. The original Clermont, is described by Fulton, her inventor, as having "bright vermilion" paddle wheels. The picture of the North River was painted by Richard Varick DeWitt in 1861, years after the Clermont was taken out of passenger service and destroyed.

I also have a portrait bust of Robert Fulton photograph by Jean Antoine Houdon (1741-1828—a Frenchman) from this bust the new Fulton stamp was made. Another portrait of Robert Fulton by Rembrandt Peale, from the famous portrait artist Peale family. These pictures I bought from the Detroit Institute of Arts, Detroit 2, Michigan. Anyone wanting one of the original Fulton cachet, illustrated envelopes I have for the coming First Day Issue post mark, can see the some 15 designs in color

Rosendale Car Protest to Be Made Tonight

A petition calling for a public referendum on the controversial Rosendale town police patrol car will be presented at the town board meeting tonight 8 o'clock at the town clerk's office, Main Street.

More than 400 signers are protesting the action of the town board in June which authorized the purchase of a secondhand police car under Local Law 1. The car was purchased from the City of Kingston for $600 and is used by the six-man constabulary to provide patrol and to answer calls for service.

Chief Harold Bowers said today that since the police car has been in operation over 100 calls have been answered covering a variety of situations including accidents, burglaries, and malicious mischief.

He pointed out that through prompt action made possible by the use of the patrol car the constabulary contributes toward saving lives and property and toward the prevention of crime.

The petitioners claim that they were denied the privilege of voting on the purchase of the car in a public referendum. They also claim that the utilization of a town constabulary is an unnecessary expenditure and that adequate police protection was provided by the state police and sheriff's department.

Also on the agenda tonight will be a hearing on a proposed junkyard ordinance.

I have and also these portraits and pictures of the Clermont. This Hudson River celebration will take place in our own Central Post Office on Aug. 19, 1965—just for first day issue service, the stamps will be sold in Clermont, N. Y. The Clermont postmark will be put on the envelopes, so I am told.

I am surprised at the interest this Fulton stamp and "First Day Issue" post mark has brought about. You do not have to be a stamp collector to enjoy this excitement, or saving of covers or envelopes with first day issue. Some folks, I see, are interested in the envelopes because of the illustrations, and hope to buy the Fulton stamps to send out to their friends when they please not using the first day issue idea, which of course is only a collector's item and cannot be used again.

Many years ago, when Kingston Point Park was a thing of beauty, and the big boats used to stop there, and let off thousands of people, especially during the summer on Sundays, the Clermont replica of the 1909 Hudson-Fulton celebration was in the lagoon. Many people took photographs of it. When folks hired a rowboat at the park, near the bandstand they could row over to it. We all knew it. My father made drawings of it, and he even made a wooden model of it. Of course we were never taught anything in school about it, for our history books were written by foreigners from other localities or states, they couldn't care less about our Hudson River and Fulton. We were taught no local history, that I can remember. I knew nothing about Vanderlyn, the Landing of Columbus artist, although we did learn about Columbus, much about him I have forgotten. Why didn't they tie in this famous painting which I am sure they showed us, with our own Kingston born artist, Vanderlyn. I will tell you why, because they, the board of education, the school system, the Regents department did not know about it. The license one has excuses everything, ignorance, inability, and only the pay-check is important, nothing else counts. How much are the local children taught about Fulton, Hudson River, Clermont, their own home town history today, ask them.

Pierce Arrow Owned by Tanis Classic Winner

Ed Tanis of Woodstock was the winner in the best unrestored Classic Division of the Old Catskill Days antique auto show. Tanis, a member of the Woodstock Motor Club, displayed his 1929 Pierce Arrow.

Other representatives of the Woodstock club included: Don Rothrock, Saugerties, 1924 Model T coupe; Gus Lovy, Kingston, 1924 Model T touring; Ed Gardner, Saugerties, 1929 Hupmobile; and Mike Lovy, Hurley, 1931 Auburn.

The two-day event started with a motor tour of antique autos to the Catskill Game Farm. In the evening, a parade

Buffalo Pair Is Held on Murder, Robbery Charges

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Two men were in Erie County jail today on charges of first-degree murder and first-degree robbery in connection with the robbery slaying of a part-time barber and money-lender, police said. A third man was being held as a material witness.

Arraigned Tuesday before Judge Alois C. Mazur of city court on the robbery and murder charges were Warner A. Brown, Jr., 19, and Selvin Lemon Jr., 20, both of Buffalo. Mazur set bail on the robbery charge at $10,000 each.

Also remanded to county jail of antique autos was held in Catskill village.

Tuesday was the third man, Irvin B. Scrivens, 38, of Buffalo, who was being held as a material witness to the slaying Monday of Abraham D. Beasley, 52, in his second-floor Buffalo apartment, police said.

Acting on a tip supplied to Buffalo Police, State Troopers arrested the three men Tuesday.

day at a Thruway roadblock near Syracuse. The three men, who were not armed, were returned to Buffalo.

State Police said they found $4,600 in cash under the front seat of the car. Buffalo Police said that Lemon later gave them another $3,000.

Seat Belt for Dogs

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Seat belts for a dog? Keith Pace Jr., of Augusta, installed a safety belt in his car which fastens to his dog's collar. He said a dog he once owned broke its back when he stopped the car suddenly.

Seeking Ulster Nomination as GOP Supervisor

The candidacy of Harold E. Keator Jr., resident of the Town of Ulster for 28 years, for the Republican nomination for supervisor of that township, was announced today.

Is C-H Employee

Keator, who is better known to his friends as "Knobby," is a distribution superintendent of the Kingston District of the Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corporation with a service of 14 years.

He is seeking to fill the post now held by incumbent Alexander J. Banyo (R-Ulster) who reportedly will not seek re-election.

Town of Ulster Republicans will hold their caucus Sept. 11 at the Chambers School at 7 o'clock.

Keator attended grammar school in the Lake Katrine School and graduated from Kingston High School in 1940. He attended Lafayette College in Easton, Pa., and graduated with a bachelor of science degree in electrical engineering in 1949.

Now on School Board

He is presently a member of the Institute of Electrical and Electronic Engineers. Keator served in the U.S. Air Force from 1943 to 1946 serving as sergeant and as a link's celestial navigation training mechanic. Prior to consolidation, Keator served as a trustee at the Chambers School, Town of Ulster and is presently serving as a member of the board of education of the Kingston Consolidated School System.

He has served as a member of the Salvation Army Advisory Board and also served as a board chairman of the Salvation Army. He is a past member of the board of directors of the Kingston Area Community Chest, serving as president in 1958 and is presently serving as a member of the Budget committee.

Keator served as membership chairman of the National Security Seminar which was held in Kingston in 1963. He is an active member of the Town of Ulster Republican Club and is a member of the Kingston Club where he serves in the capacity as first vice-president, member of the board of directors and division chairman of international relations. He has also served as club chairman of interclubs and division chairman of interclubs.

Injured by Bat

Local police were notified Tuesday night that Steven North, 7, of 39 Murphy Street, was treated at Kingston Hospital for injuries suffered when he was hit in the face with a baseball bat at Dietz Stadium. A City League game was scheduled at the stadium.

Will Alter 6th Hole to Pacify Upstate Protest

ROCHESTER, N.Y. (AP) — A cease-fire has been reached in a war between golfers and some residents of suburban Spencerport who claim golf balls are winding up in their backyards at the rate of 20 a week.

Roger Dargusch, a spokesman for about seven homeowners near the sixth hole of the 18-hole Salmon Creek Golf Course, said his group had planned to picket golfers Saturday in protest.

He claimed that golfers keep hitting their sixth-hole tee shot in the backyards. However, Dargusch and the homeowners called off their picketing plans last night when Richard Wolters, owner of the semi-private golf course, said that the sixth hole would be altered so as to prevent shots from landing in the backyards.

Another Health Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson signed today another health bill, to help staff community mental health centers and train teachers for handicapped children, and called these programs "vital building blocks in the structure of our society."

The bill provides authorization for later appropriation of $360 million over three years, $224 million of that sum going to help staff mental health centers.

The signing took place in the White House rose garden in the presence of administration officials and members of Congress who helped with the legislation.

4 Ulster County Residents Hurt, Three Critical

Four Ulster County residents were injured, three critically, in a two-car collision which occurred at 6 p. m. Tuesday on Route 209 north of Route 44-55, Kerhonkson, according to Ellenville State Police.

Sergeant Donald Paulson reported Kenneth Mance, 48, of 15 Yankee Place, Ellenville, operator of one of the cars involved in the crash, was cited for failure to yield the right of way. The other car, a 1960 sedan, was owned and operated by Mrs. Lucille Schmidt, 44, Kerhonkson.

Critically injured were: Lucille Schmidt, fractured skull, severe lacerations of the scalp and fractured ribs. Peter Mance, 18, Ellenville, fractured ribs, multiple lacerations, shock.

Harvey Benjamin Ducker, 42, of Briggs Highway, Ellenville, fractured skull, lacerations of the scalp and fractured ribs. Ducker was a passenger in the Schmidt car, according to Sergeant Paulson.

Kenneth Mance suffered possible fractures of the ribs. The injured were all rushed from the scene of the crash to Veterans Memorial Hospital, Ellenville.

Sergeant Paulson, who investigated with Trooper S. H. Steiner, reported Mance was driving his 1964 car south on Route 209 and attempted to make a left turn into a parking lot. Troopers said Mance's vehicle crossed into the path of the northbound car operated by the Kerhonkson woman.

Engineers . . .

ibils for the existing filter plant to treat these turbid waters for any extended period at high rates of flow.

"The report further notes that six independent sources of additional supply were studied and it was concluded that the proposed Cooper Lake Reservoir enlargement was not only the least expensive, but also the most dependable means of acquiring adequate storage. Therefore, I feel that the Cooper Lake enlargement project should be given top priority."

Meg to Visit Johnsons

WASHINGTON (AP) — When England's Princess Margaret and her husband, Lord Snowden, make their first visit to the United States this fall, one of the stops will be the White House.

President and Mrs. Johnson will be host to the royal couple at a White House dinner Nov. 17, it was announced Tuesday.

To Answer Queries on Sales Tax

Edward F. Hritz, director of the New York State Sales Tax Office in Poughkeepsie, will speak and answer specific questions regarding the new 2 percent sales tax Thursday 7:30 p. m. at the Governor Clinton Hotel.

The meeting is being sponsored as a public service by the Upstate Business Men's Association in cooperation with the Kingston Trust Company and the Governor Clinton Hotel. It is open to all area businessmen and to anyone interested.

Announcement of the special meeting was made today by the Association's executive director, John R. Warren. The new State tax on goods and services went into effect Sunday, Aug. 2.

Passage Appears Certain Thursday On Vote Rights

WASHINGTON (AP) — The voting-rights bill, providing the strongest means yet for assuring Negroes access to the ballot box, was only a step today from final congressional approval. That step seemed certain to be taken Thursday.

The Senate has the final say and a leader of the opposition there said he knows of no plans for any concerted action against it by his fellow Southerners.

"If I thought I could defeat the bill, I'd try," Sen. Allen J. Ellender, D-La., said in an interview.

But Ellender recalled that a two-thirds majority had voted in May to shut off debate on the original version of the bill and only a simple majority now is needed for approval of the compromise version before the Senate.

The House passed the measure Tuesday 328 to 74.

King in Washington

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Rev. Martin Luther King flew into Washington behind schedule today for a series of civil rights sessions, delayed in Philadelphia by a bomb scare which he attributed to pranksters.

Anonymous telephone calls reporting a bomb aboard his plane held him up so long he missed a breakfast gathering of civil rights leaders. No explosives were found in a search of the aircraft.

Daley's Home Is Picketed Again, More Promised

CHICAGO (AP) — Some 100 integrationists for the third consecutive night picketed Mayor Richard J. Daley's home Tuesday night and a leader of the group said picketing would continue daily for an indefinite period.

About 150 policemen were stationed in the South Side Bridgeport neighborhood where the mayor lives but no one was arrested. Sixty-five demonstrators were arrested Monday night and Daley accused them of stirring up tension.

Albert Raby of the Coordinating Council of Community Organizations and Dick Gregory, a Negro comedian, led the four-mile march from Grant Park in a rainstorm. Raby said his group has no plans to halt the marches to the mayor's home.

The marchers are protesting the recent rehiring of Benjamin C. Willis, schools superintendent, who demonstrators say has kept Chicago schools under de facto racial segregation. Daley says he cannot interfere with Willis' contract.

Woman's Trial Is Put Over

Trial of Mary Johnson, 65, Kerhonkson, on a charge of driving a motor vehicle while intoxicated, today was adjourned until Wednesday, Aug. 18 at 7:30 p. m. by Justice of the Peace Abram Smith, Town of Rochester.

The hearing will be held in the town municipal building.

Mrs. Johnson was arrested by Ellenville State Police on July 18, after her car was in collision with a vehicle operated by Ronald Secreto, 22, of 224 Smith Avenue, this city.

At the time of the arraignment last month, troopers said, the woman allegedly attempted to hit Secreto, who later filed a disorderly conduct charge against Mrs. Johnson. Trooper C. R. Larson said at the time of the arrest the woman refused a blood test.

Trooper Douglas Dymond made the drunken driving charge.

Suffers Head Injury

Glenn R. Fitzgerald, 22, of 51 Glen Street, one of two drivers in a mishap on Broadway near VanBuren Street, reported at 10:30 p. m. was treated at the Benedictine Hospital for a head injury. The other car, police said, was driven by John E. Jones, of P.O. Box 312, Hurley.

Memoriam

In memory of our mother, Minnie J. Kain, who died one year ago today, Aug. 4, 1964.

A year today you passed away. But in our hearts you'll always stay.

A glowing smile, a tender touch, You never knew you meant so much. God took you home, it was His will.

A vacant spot no one can fill. Your smile, your words, your loving care

We took for granted till you weren't there.

We love you Mom, we always will.

Even though your voice is still. Sadly missed by CHILDREN and GRANDCHILDREN

Highland, filed both the Green and Cantwell claims.

A claim for $30,000 was filed by Francis M. Short, of Decker Street, Sunset Park, as parent of Gary D. Short, who was injured when he allegedly fell last June 15 over a chain at Dietz Stadium and suffered multiple injuries. The sum of $25,000 is sought for the son and $5,000 for the father. They are represented by the law firm of Cook & Cook.

Asks About Old Cars William G. Davis, (D-Lib) 13th Ward, wanted to know what is being done to enforce the city's abandoned car ordinance.

It was explained that action has been taken in two instances, but City Clerk Walter S. Foster said he had been told by Corporation Counsel Gold, that prosecution must be taken through court unless an offense involved is considered a public nuisance, or if this course is not pursued in entering upon private property, penalties as stipulated in the ordinance, may be imposed.

Minority Leader James F. Howard (D) 10th Ward, asked that City Clerk Foster be directed to complain by letter to the New York Central Railroad of poor conditions on railroad crossings along Greenkill Avenue, and also ask it to do something about collections of litter along the railroad's right-of-way in the same area.

Alderman Schrowang, in proposing that local certified public accountants be considered to audit city accounts, also suggested that the city clerk determine by inquiry if any local accountants are interested.

Attorney Abraham Streifer, representing the Route 9 Corp., headed by V. J. Andretta, of 160 Manor Avenue, asked a zoning change, for industrial purposes, of land off Flatbush Avenue. It was noted that a northern section, owned by the New York Central Railroad, is under option to the Ulster Industrial Park Inc., of which Andretta is also president. The proposal was referred to the laws and rules committee.

Minnie Mae Lamb Weds Airman at Air Force Base

Miss Minnie Mae Lamb, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lamb Sr., of 5208 Colfax Place, Topeka, Kan., exchanged marriage vows on Sunday, June 27, 1965 with A/3C Gary M. Van Aken, son of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Van Aken of 94 Downs Street, Kingston, N. Y. Airman Van Aken is stationed at Forbes Air Force Base in Kansas where the wedding ceremony took place.

Chaplain Capt. Hoyal was the officiating clergyman for the double ring wedding ceremony. Attending the couple were Airman 1C and Mrs. James Finch. The bride's mother and close friends attended the ceremony. The bride's father is a S/Sgt. stationed in New Hampshire.

For her wedding, the bride wore a brown and white checked linen suit with white accessories. She carried a bouquet of yellow roses and pompons.

Mrs. Van Aken is a graduate of Highland Park High School in Topeka. Her husband is an alumnus of Kingston High School and an honor graduate of Amarillo Air Force Base Training School. He is continuing his studies at the Forbes Air Force Base in Kansas.

Airman and Mrs. Van Aken will be at home at 3510 Monroe, Topeka, Kansas.

Exhibit of Motion In Art Opens on Monday at Paltz

Electrically-powered works, and other forms of kinetic, "moving" art created by a group of Italian artists, will be displayed at the College Art Gallery, State University College, New Paltz, beginning next Monday, Dr. Peter J. Bohan, Gallery Director, announced today.

The exhibition, sponsored by the Olivetti Company with the assistance of the Smithsonian Institution, will open Aug. 9 at 4 p. m., and will end Sept. 3. Gallery hours are 9 to 4 p. m., Monday through Friday.

Designed by the artists to produce a fluid series of optical and psychological impressions, some of the works are powered by electric motors, a few can be varied by the spectator, and others change in appearance and effect as the observer changes his position.

Among the displays, movable rods project from a plane surface, changing patterns of light move across a screen in a darkened room, and rods of stainless steel with gleaming cylinders create varying optical, geometric patterns.

Dr. Bohan said that the works have an "obvious affinity with Op Art, and suggest a continued Italian preoccupation with the problem of motion in art which first appeared in their Futurist movement at the time of World War I."

Twenty-three works will be on exhibit, based on a similar show held in Milan, Venice, Rome, and Dusseldorf in 1962.

CELEBRATE ANNIVERSARY—Mr. and Mrs. Francis J. Sickler Sr. of 38 Taylor Street, Kingston, celebrated their 34th wedding anniversary Sunday, Aug. 1. They were married July 31, 1931 in Kingston. The surprise party was held at the home of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Ennist Jr. Attending were their nine children and 19 grandchildren and Mrs. Elizabeth Chamberlain.

Discourteous Wedding Guests Should Not Have Left Seats

Q: Isn't it very rude for guests to leave their seats at a wedding before the bride and groom have walked down the aisle? At my daughter's wedding last week, just as soon as the ceremony was concluded, several guests left their seats and walked to the back of the church. I was very much annoyed at this. Shouldn't they have remained in their seats until the bride party left the church?

A: Very definitely, they should have remained in their seats. It is a breach of etiquette. It is guests to leave their places before all members of the immediate families have left the church.

Opening Door for a Girl

Q: I am a teen-age boy and my friend and I disagree on the proper way for a boy to open a door for his date. I am referring to a door that pushes open. I say: Push the door open from behind and allow the girl to go through first. He says: The boy goes first to open the door and stands holding it. Which is correct?

A: You are right; but if the door is very heavy and difficult to hold open from behind, it is perfectly proper for him to excuse himself and go through first and hold it for her.

Catholic Camp Is Averaging Over 100 Each Week

The Catholic Day Camp, Lake Katrine, upon completion of five weeks of camp, has averaged over 100 children per week. This includes children coming from the Kingston city area, Saugerties, Glasco, Woodstock, Hurley, Highland, Esopus, and Red Hook with the more immediate area facilitated by buses.

Every child is placed on a team for the week, which follows a different schedule daily, including and instructional swim in the morning and a "free" swim in the afternoon. The special events include cook-outs, overnight camping, Indian Day, talents shows, mayoralty elections, hikes and movies. This year two visiting camps from Westchester County have made overnight stays.

A special event has been added to the program this year whereby a boy and girl "Camper of the Year" will be selected by the staff according to his and her's contribution to camp. They will then be rewarded with an all-expense paid trip to the New York World's Fair.

The purpose of the camp is to provide wholesome, creative recreation for as many children as possible under experienced, mature supervision. All boys and girls, 6-13 years old, Catholic and non-Catholic are eligible. Bus transportation is provided to and from camp. There are 16 stops throughout the city area and along 9W and East Chester Street are met and left off. There is also a bus from Saugerties. The camp day begins at 9 a. m. and closes at 3:45 p. m.

With openings still remaining for the last two weeks, interested parents may write the Catholic Day Camp, Box 363, Lake Katrine.

Conical Cover-up Is the Word on Fall Fashions from Paris

EDITOR'S NOTE — The new Paris fashion showings for fall and winter are almost ended. In this special roundup, an AP fashion specialist sums up major trends in the new styles.

By LOUISE HICKMAN
AP Fashion Writer

PARIS (AP) — Conical shapes, well covered up, dominate the new Paris fashion collections for fall and winter.

That's the outstanding impression one has after viewing advance showings of the new fashions which opened July 26 and end this Friday with a preview of the Yves Saint-Laurent collection.

Buyers who have seen the new Saint-Laurent collection hail it as the best in Paris, commenting particularly on his brilliant use of color in creating geometric patterns outlined in bars of black.

No one mentions hemlines at Saint-Laurent, and in other fall-winter collections lengths play lesser roles than had been expected. The acceptable average would seem to be mid-knee.

The prevailing shape is a slender cone, which gives new dimension to the A-line. Shoulders and long sleeves are slender. Collars are high, loose rings. Suit jackets are longer. Belts circle but never cinch. Most of them are slung loosely around the hips, on dresses.

Heim has many knee-length full-blown knickers, in fur or fabric for any hour of the day, and Lanvin showed the same harem shapes for at-home wear. And that is about it, as far as pants are concerned.

In short-skirt collections, leg-covering gaiters in fabrics to match coats or dresses take the place of boots.

In both French and Italian collections, the search is on for new coat shapes. There are twirly wide coats in the Ricci and Molyneux collections. At Ricci they are scarf-trapped around the neck and buttonless. Molyneux buttons them high, once, at the neck.

The newest evening look is strapless, cut high to cover cleavage. The gowns are cut close to the rib cage, circle the body in a slender, stiff cone from a point above the waist. They always have some sort of Rigid domed hats dominate the collections. But the newest-looking hat is Dior's wide, soft black "cavalier" felt. At Lanvin and Ricci there were bandanna wraps in firm felt. Patou showed a bandanna-wrapped "sphinx" coil, often in suede.

DEVILED NECTARINE BAKE features tender spareribs.FOOD FOR AMERICANS*Enjoy California Nectarines With SpareribsBy GAYNOR MADDOX
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

A fresh nectarine eaten out-of-hand is one of nature's most succulent gifts to mankind. Chinese gardeners knew that centuries ago. So enjoy them while you can, the season is short.

DEVILED NECTARINE BAKE

(Makes 4 servings)

- 1/2 cup tomato sauce
- 1/2 cup water
- 2 tablespoons vinegar
- 1 tablespoon brown sugar
- 1 teaspoon salt
- 1 teaspoon paprika
- 1 teaspoon chili powder
- 1/4 teaspoon black pepper
- Dash cayenne
- 1 cup chopped onion
- 3 lbs. spareribs, cut into serving pieces
- 4 large nectarines
- Watercress

In large, shallow dish combine tomato sauce, water, vinegar, brown sugar and seasonings. Stir to blend; add onions and mix. Add spareribs to dish, spooning marinade over meat; marinate 1 hour. Place ribs in baking pan with some of marinade spooned over. Bake in 350-degree (moderate) oven, basting several times with marinade, 1 1/2 to 2 hours or until tender. Meanwhile, cut nectarines into halves; remove pits. Place nectarines cut-sides down in marinade left in shallow dish. When ribs are tender remove to warm platter; keep warm. Fill nectarine halves with marinade; broil 3 minutes. Serve with ribs. Garnish with watercress if you wish.

Norfolk Concert Will Feature Horn Player August 6th

The concert in the Music Shed at Norfolk, Conn., on Friday, Aug. 6th, at 8:30 p. m., will feature Paul Ingraham, French horn player as soloist. From the brass family of instruments, the French horn is responsible for some of the most beautiful sounds heard in orchestral music, and is also effective and pleasing as a solo instrument. It is capable of a wide variety of tonal color and is one of the most difficult instruments to play well.

Paul Ingraham's activity in the field of French horn performance reveals that he has become master of his instrument. He has played first horn with the Ballet Russe, the New York City Center Ballet Co., the Metropolitan Opera, the American Symphony under Leopold Stokowski. He has played under conductors Montovani and Fiedler and spent the past season playing first horn with the Minneapolis Symphony Orchestra.

Mr. Ingraham has attended the Marlboro Festival in Vermont for several seasons, was a member of the New York Brass Quintet in 1963-64, and is a regular member of the Casals Festival in Puerto Rico. He has been active in the freelance performance held in New York and has done much television, recording and concert work.

On Friday, Aug. 6th, at Norfolk, Mr. Ingraham will play Quintet for Horn and Strings by Bernard Heiden, and Mozart's Horn Concerto No. IV. Also to be heard on this program will be Beethoven's String Quartet, No. 95, played by Broadus Erle, violin, Yoko Matsuda, violin, David Schwartz, viola, Aldo Parisot, cello, Keith Wilson is conductor for this concert and will lead the orchestra in Stravinsky's Danse Concertantes as well as the accompaniment to the Mozart Horn Concerto, No. IV.

New Dessert Recipe for Blueberry File

BLUEBERRY DREAM DESSERT is a refreshing change from the pies, cakes and puddings that every homemaker is making almost every day now with the fresh cultivated blueberries. What a delightful conclusion to a summer meal.

Dreams are made of the big beautiful fresh cultivated blueberries that are with us now. What a dream of a berry! Here is a berry so good to eat so beloved by man, woman and child, so versatile and adaptable in cooking and serving, yet so good for you that it almost seems too good to be true.

Of all the berries, cultivated blueberries rank first in Vitamin A content and second in food energy. They contain Vitamin C and contribute useful minerals, such as iron, to the diet. The ideal snack for night-watchers, half a cup of blueberries adds up to only 42 calories.

Women dream up new ways to put blueberries on their tables every blueberry season. How else can they satisfy the almost insatiable desire of their families for blueberries? The pies, the cobbles, the bread puddings; the muffins and pancakes and cup cakes are all most necessary, of course, during the short fresh blueberry season. But try something different, too. This Blueberry Dream Dessert is a light and charming finish for a summer meal.

- 1 package orange-flavored gelatin
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/4 cup hot water
- 1/2 cup orange juice
- 1/2 cup lemon juice
- 1 pint fresh cultivated blueberries
- 1 package dessert topping mix
- 1 package gelatin, salt and sugar in hot water. Add orange and lemon juice. Divide gelatin mixture in half. Into a glass serving dish, pour half the gelatin mixture. Let other half set in any container. Chill both batches of gelatin until almost set. Over gelatin in serving dish arrange a layer of blueberries, reserving a few for decoration. Whip dessert topping mix and fold in remaining half of thickened gelatin. Add to serving dish on top of layer of blueberries. Chill until firm. Garnish with reserved blueberries. Makes 6 to 8 servings.

TV Reviews, Best Bets

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

AP Television-Radio Writer HOLLYWOOD (AP) — John Larch hopes to solve a career problem with a regular starring part in a weekly television series.

A strong, talented actor, Larch has found plenty of guest star roles as a free lance performer, moving from "Dr. Kildare" to "Ben Casey," from "Bonanza" to "The Fugitive."

Next season he will play a World War II Merchant Marine captain in NBC's new adventure series, "Convoy."

"You know how it works in this business," he said. "They spot a kid in some station pumping gas, like his looks and the next thing you know they are announcing that he'll star in a new television series. I'm not knocking it, you understand, but you'll admit that this kind of instant stardom can bother the trained professionals."

"I decided that it was time for me to have a series — I really didn't care what kind of a show it was as long as it had some quality. The main thing was to enhance my name value and the way to do that now is to get your own series."

Larch with refreshing frankness declared that he was not interested in the financial aspects of a series.

"If you get the parts, you get money," he said. "Don't let them kid you. You can make a lot of money acting in television if you can act. Hell, you can even make plenty of money if you can't act."

The actor observed that television has changed considerably in the past few years.

Once you had a hard time getting work after you had been tied up in a series," he continued. "They figured that the public had you identified with a character."

"That's all changed now. They look for people who have had series experience to put in shows, even though they still like to pluck unknowns out of gas stations."

Larch says all actors move up by a series of plateaus — and sometimes they stay on one.

"I'd reached a plateau as a TV actor and I figure the only way I could advance was to star in my own series. It was as simple as that — and I liked this one because it can cover so much ground. The pilot was a real action show with lots of shooting — and the other day we did a tender love story that was set in Gibraltar," he added.

Perry Como's seven musical specials next season will serve to give NBC's Andy Williams an occasional week off, as did the Jonathan Winters show last season.

Les Crane, who has become so lovable since his return to ABC's "Nightlife," hopes to be even more lovable now with a weekly panel of cute children spouting cute opinions — a sort of after-hours Art Linkletter.

King's Widow 65

LONDON (AP) — Her Majesty Elizabeth Angela Marguerite — lady of the garter, lady of the thistle and the Queen Mum to millions of Britons — is 65 today.

The widow of King George VI was spending her birthday vacation at her castle of Mey on the wild and windy northern tip of Scotland.

An informant said there would be a small birthday cake, presents, a glass or two of champagne, telephone calls and telegrams from her family and friends and visits from some of her neighbors.

Returns to Home Base

Marine Corporal David E. Reilly Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. D. E. Reilly of Parker Avenue, Esopus, returned recently to his home base at Camp Lejeune, N. C., after completing a five month tour of duty with the landing force of the U.S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean. He is a member of Battalion Landing Team 2/8 (BLT 2/8) which is built around the 2nd Battalion, 8th Marines, 2nd Marine Division. It is reinforced with ground and aviation elements from the Marine Air Station, Cherry Point, N. C., and Force Troops and Marine Corps Base at Camp Lejeune.

During his deployment the BLT made liberty stops at Naples, Italy; Izmir, Turkey; Cannes, France; and Palma, Mallorca. Other popular sites reached from these cities included Rome, Paris, Nice and Monaco.

Lane Bill

Would Credit Business People Who Collect Taxes

A bill is being drafted by Greene County Assemblyman Clarence D. Lane to be presented for the next legislative session to compensate business people who are acting as agents to collect the new sales tax for the state.

Noting that the state is now paying for the collection of gasoline and tobacco taxes, Lane said, "inasmuch as the state has already established a precedent, there is no reason why the privilege should not apply to all of those who will collect the sales tax for the state."

The assemblyman said the method and amount of compensation could be worked out. A percentage based on an escalation arrangement determined by the amount of money collected and other factors would seem the best solution, Lane said.

The Greene County legislator further said that he feels strongly that when individuals or businesses act as a collection agency for the state, they are performing a state service and should be compensated for their time, effort and responsibility and in many cases the cost of equipment to perform the service.

LBJ Does It Alone

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson had to do it alone Tuesday when he pinned a Distinguished Service Medal on Maj. Gen. Chester V. Ted Clifton Jr.

Clifton usually assists the President on medal ceremonies in the White House rose garden. "This is the first medal I have ever placed without Gen. Clifton telling me how to do it," Johnson said.

Clifton was honored for his 33-year career in the Army, which included serving as military aide since 1961 to Presidents John F. Kennedy and Johnson. He retired July 31 to become vice president of a New York business consulting firm.

Hudson Gallery Shows Work of Eight Artists

Eight artists are exhibiting their works at the 82 Gallery in Hudson now through August 20th. The show includes lithographs, woodcuts and serigraphs by Stanley Bate, Edythe Ferris, Jack Bookbinder, Carolyn Haeblerlin, Thomas Garrett, John McClellan, Anne Hubbard and Irving G. Lehman.

Area residents may visit the Gallery Tuesdays through Saturdays from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. The Gallery is located at 82 Worth Avenue, Hudson, N. Y.

Ginger Set for Return

NEW YORK AP — Ginger Rogers, 54, who made her Broadway debut in a 1929 musical, is getting set to take over Monday Carol Channing's star role in the hit musical "Hello Dolly!"

Miss Rogers hasn't been on Broadway since 1951. She said Tuesday there would be no major changes in the "Dolly" script, but "there will be more dancing woven into existing numbers..."

Through a mutual friend in this country, we have been able to import directly the superb etchings of SIGNOR GIOVANNI BATTISTA MIRRI, of Rome, Italy. SIGNOR MIRRI attended the ACADEMIA DELLE BELLE ARTI, and is rated one of Italy's finest engravers. He has accepted an invitation to one of the more important exhibits of etchings and designs to be held this summer in Milan. These etchings will not be for sale until Tuesday, Aug. 17th. They will be priced from five to twelve dollars.

Six Entries Sign To Vie for Title, Miss Saugerties

The Miss Saugerties Pageant Committee this week processed entry applications of the first six prospective aspirants for the 1966 title and a chance to compete in the State Pageant in Kingston next July.

The 11th annual Miss Saugerties Pageant will be held Saturday, Sept. 18 at 8:30 p. m. in Saugerties High School auditorium.

The theme this year will be Portraits in Beauty, according to Joseph Bosco Jr., executive director. Albert V. Conte is producer and director of this year's preliminary to the Miss America Pageant. Mrs. Vivian Schultz is in charge of entries; Nathan Aaron, judges; Alfred R. MacMullen, Chamber of Commerce executive secretary, tickets; Vincent Amrod, budget, and Herbert G. Lachmann, contestant awards.

The pageant is sponsored by Saugerties Area Chamber of Commerce. This year's titleholder is Miss Beth Offermann. Contestants must be residents of the Town of Saugerties, or graduates of Saugerties High School by Sept. 1 of this year. They must be single, never married, not less than 17 years of age on Sept. 1, nor over 27.

Entries close Aug. 30. Application blanks are available at the Chamber office in the Amrod Building, Partition Street, or at any Chamber member store or place of business.

Jaynees Discuss Future Program; Cite Top Member

Mrs. Francis Myer was named Jaynee of the Month and the program for the coming year was outlined at last week's meeting of Saugerties Jaynees held at the home of Mrs. Eugene Hicken.

The main business of the evening was the discussion of the program and the proposed budget as presented by Mrs. Carl Poleschmer, Ways and Means chairman.

Mrs. Myer was named Jaynee of the Month by Mrs. George Leombruno, president. Mrs. Myer did an outstanding job as chairman of the July 4th festivities held at Simmons Plaza in 1964 and 1965.

Mrs. Leombruno gave a report on the State Executive Board meeting in Schenectady July 23 to which local presidents had been invited.

The Jaycee family picnic will be held Sunday at Cantine Field. Guests for the evening were Mrs. Stanley Davidson, Mrs. Tony Francello and Mrs. Carl Genna.

Each member brought a favorite dessert for all to share and a social hour followed the business meeting.

Big Dangers Nearer, Frustrations Grow Since Bombing North

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Special Correspondent

The "new phase" of the Viet Nam war is a year old today. Just a year ago, on Aug. 4, the United States for the first time bombed targets in North Viet Nam and began what the Pentagon would call an escalation process.

What has been the result thus far? Big dangers seem nearer, the frustrations even greater. The path to solution appears as agonizingly elusive as it was before Red North Viet Nam tested the U.S. "paper tiger" and found it had sharp teeth.

A year ago, the United States had 16,500 troops in South Viet Nam, technically advisers. Now there are 80,000 there, many in active combat. The conflict, in President Johnson's words, has become a real war.

IUE Campaigns For New NLRB Ferroxcube Vote

Another attempt to organize the employees of Ferroxcube Corporation of America at Saugerties is currently underway by the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Marine Workers, AFL-CIO, IUE District 3.

The first of a series of open meetings for all production, maintenance, professional, technical, office and salaried employees has been scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 10 at VFW Hall, Livingston Street, Saugerties.

The first and third shifts will meet at 8 p. m. and the second shift immediately after work.

The IUE has been conducting a handbill campaign outside the Mt. Marion plant. The most recent handbill distributed to employees listed the meeting notice and welcomed the employees back from vacation. Ferroxcube was on partial plant shutdown for a two week vacation period.

The IUE last October lost the right to represent the employees in collective bargaining by a margin of 32 votes. The totals were 179 for the IUE; 4 for International Brotherhood of Teamsters No. 445, and 225 voted for no union representation.

Band Concert Set by Jaycees Here August 19

A band concert program inaugurated last year by Saugerties Jaycees, which received favorable response, will be held again this year, on Thursday, Aug. 19 at Cantine Memorial Field, Washington Avenue Extension.

John A. Balotti, committee chairman said Kingston Concert Band under the direction of Martin Morrette will play through the courtesy of the American Federation of Musicians, Local 215.

The concert starts 8 p. m.

Fishing Derby For Youngsters Slated Aug. 28

The annual fishing derby for youngsters sponsored by Saugerties Jaycees will be held Saturday, Aug. 28 on the Esopus Creek adjacent to Saugerties municipal bathing beach.

Joseph Comito has been named chairman of the event. Prizes will be awarded for several categories.

The contest will start at 1:30 and end 3:30 p. m. Registration will begin next week. Further details will be announced.

Would Fine Klan For Failing to Sign in State

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (AP) — Indiana Secretary of State John D. Bottorff says the state should seek penalties including a $10,000 fine against the Ku Klux Klan for failing to register with his office as an out-of-state corporation.

Bottorff said the Klan has a post office box in nearby Greentown and a resident of the area is acting as an agent for the organization. His remarks Tuesday followed a visit to the state by the head of the United Klans of America, Inc., Robert M. Shelton Jr., of Tuscaloosa, Ala., who boasted the Klan will have enough Indiana strength in a year to take over the governor's chair. The gubernatorial election will be in 1968.

Shelton made a one-day visit Monday to inquire about charges against five men arrested in Greentown for distributing anti-Negro literature. Arrested after the distribution to post office box holders of the Klan newspaper, Firey Cross, they were charged with violating a 1947 state law prohibiting "racketeering in hate."

In Greentown, Hancock County Sheriff Edwin Kirkpatrick said Shelton asked about the arrests and said he would consult his legal counsel.

Bottorff asked State Atty.

THEY'LL DO IT EVERY TIME Registered U. S. Patent Office by JIMMY HATLO

Gen. John J. Dillon to institute action against the Klan for the functioning at a state headquarters in Greentown without filing with his corporation division.

Dillon said he did not want to prejudice the rights of the five men facing criminal charges in Hancock County and added the Klan "is entitled to the same constitutional rights as you and I are."

He also said he feels the Klan

"probably has done business in Indiana within the meaning of the statute."

Bottorff said the law provides a $10,000 fine for an out-of-state corporation operating without filing with his office.

State Police Lt. Robert Gray said state police are on a general lookout for Klan activity and have found no signs of recruiting other than in Hancock County.

Judge in Paddy Wagon

TRENTON, N.J. (AP) —

There was no police cruiser available when Magistrate Albert Cooper asked headquarters for transportation to Municipal Court chambers in the 2nd Precinct this week.

Officers dispatched the only transportation available — a police paddy wagon.

Osias Resigns; Resnick Office Lists Staff Shift

The resignation of Martin Osias, former Poughkeepsie radio newscaster, as press secretary for Congressman Joseph Y. Resnick of Ellenville, (D-28th District) was noted in the announcement of staff changes by the 28th District Office in Poughkeepsie.

Glenn Van Bramer, legislative assistant in Resnick's Washington office will begin his duties in the District Office, Poughkeepsie within two weeks. During the past seven months, as liaison between federal agencies and the Resnick office, he has assisted in the development of a number of the congressman's proposals include the Egg Marketing Bill and the Pet Protection Bill.

Van Bramer will bring his knowledge of immigration and social security matters to the district, thus increasing the representative's service to residents of the district.

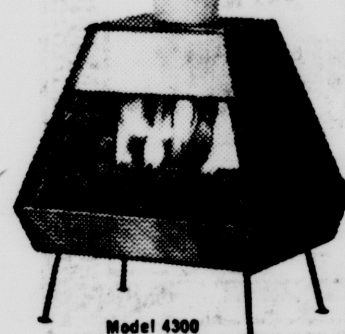

Osias received a high rating on the Federal Administrators and Managers Examination and has received several offers. He resigned in order to accept one of these positions.

Mrs. Joyce Helmers of the District Office in Poughkeepsie assumes the duties of press secretary and will continue to work out of the Poughkeepsie office.

A MESSAGE FROM THE PRESIDENT OF THE GRAND UNION COMPANY

Having been born and brought up in Granville, New York, I am particularly pleased to greet our Company's many friends in up-state New York, Vermont and Massachusetts who are served by the Empire Division's 117 Supermarkets and 4 Grand Way Department Stores.

Empire Division, largest of Grand Union's ten operating units headed by Ralph D. Lytle, Vice President and General Manager; broke all previous sales records in 1964 and continues to set new records in 1965.

Our success in attracting customers is attributed to attractive, conveniently located stores—many new and newly renovated—plus, quality merchandise, every day low prices and trading stamps.

However, it is you the customer, who counts. Your loyalty and support in increasing numbers has made Grand Union's success possible. We are now the Nation's ninth largest food chain.

This week we are extending our special thanks and appreciation to all our customers, old and new, with extra low prices, extra bonus stamps, and extra friendly and courteous service.

For the warmest of welcomes and best of bargains stop in this week at your favorite Grand Union Supermarket or nearest Grand Way Department Store.

Sincerely,
Thomas C. Butler

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert Pepper and family of Ticonderoga called on friends here Friday.

A two-week evening vacation Bible school has been conducted at the Chichester Wesleyan Methodist Church with the Phoenicia and West Shokan Baptist Churches participating. A group of children also attended from the Norwegian Children's home in Mt. Tremper, making the average attendance for the 10 evenings more than 86. A demonstration program was held on Saturday night at which time parents and friends were invited to attend. The program included songs and memory work and a skit by the junior high school class. Gifts were awarded to all students, and refreshments and the display of handwork were enjoyed by the guests following the program.

A bus trip is being planned for Aug. 14 to the Yankee Stadium. The bus will leave Phoenicia at 10 a. m. On September 11 another bus will go to the World's Fair and Shea Stadium. This bus will leave Phoenicia at 7 a. m. No seats will be saved unless paid for in advance. For reservations Edward Grant may be contacted.

Gets Suspended Term

Accused of shooting his wife in the foot on July 18, Wesley Davis, 46, a migrant farm worker employed on a Clintondale farm, drew a 180-day suspended sentence Monday afternoon, after pleading guilty to third degree assault. Davis, who was arrested by Kingston state police had been sought by authorities since the day of the shooting incident. The defendant's wife, Anne, was treated at St. Francis' Hospital, Poughkeepsie, for a flesh wound. The case was disposed of before Justice of the Peace John O. Beaver, Town of Esopus.

Medicare, Social Security

Nursing Home Care Benefits Available by Jan. 1, 1967

BY JOHN TROAN
NEA Special Writer

Under the Social Security Medicare program, you'll be able to get up to 100 days of care in a nursing home for each "spell of illness."

The first 20 days will be paid for by the government. After that, you must pick up part of the bill—by paying $5 for each additional day you remain in the nursing home.

This means you can get 20 "free" days in a nursing home for a single illness, plus 80 "cut-rate" days.

Nursing-home benefits will start Jan. 1, 1967—six months after hospital and home-health benefits begin.

To qualify for nursing-home benefits, you must spend at least three days in a hospital and enter the nursing home within 14 days after leaving the hospital.

However, if you have to return to a nursing home after discharge you may do so without going into a hospital again—provided you re-enter the same nursing home, or get into another one, within 14 days.

In any event, your doctor must certify (and recertify at intervals specified by the government) that you need skilled nursing care for the same condition which was being treated in the hospital.

(If a new ailment develops while you are in the nursing home, that will be covered by Medicare provided you still were being treated for the original illness at the time.)

As explained in the previous article, a "spell of illness" begins the day you enter a hospital or a nursing home and ends after you have been outside a hospital and nursing home for 60 days.

In the nursing home, you are entitled to:

- Bed and board in a semi-private room limited to four patients (though a doctor may order a private room "for medical reasons").

- Nursing care.
- Physical, occupational and speech therapy.

- Services of medical social workers.
- Drugs and appliances usually furnished to patients.

- Services of interns and residents attached to hospitals that have a working agreement with the nursing home.

All nursing homes won't be covered.

In fact, most facilities now called nursing homes won't qualify unless they raise their standards or change their method of operation.

Actually, the law says you may go to an "extended-care facility"—not a plain "nursing home." Thus, institutions which offer only "custodial care" (such as old folks' homes) are excluded.

Under the law, the "facility" must be "primarily engaged" in providing "skilled nursing care and related services" or "rehabilitation services." This could be a nursing home, or a hospital wing, or a "special section of an old folks' home."

(Christian Science sanatoriums may give up to 120 days of care per stay, whereas the limit on regular hospital care is 90 days.)

services must be drawn with the help of a professional medical group, including at least one physician and one registered nurse. And a physician, registered nurse or medical staff must be responsible for carrying them out.

At least one registered nurse must be employed full time (though not around the clock). And adequate nursing service (which may include practical nurses) must be provided at all times.

Every patient in the nursing home must be under a physician's supervision, and a doctor must always be "available" for emergency care. The home also must keep proper records on all patients and have "appropriate" rules for dispensing drugs.

Generally, the home must be licensed or approved by the state. It also must have a written agreement, governing patient transfers, with at least one hospital that has signed up for the Medicare program (although a state may ask that this requirement be waived "in the public interest" if a home tried "in good faith" to negotiate such a "transfer agreement" but couldn't get a hospital to go along).

Above all, the nursing home must have a "utilization review plan" under which a physician-controlled committee must make sure patients aren't admitted needlessly, kept in longer than they should be or given unnecessary treatment.

(NEXT — Medicare benefits available in the patient's own home.)

Cites Natural Eradication

Report Finds Gypsy Moth Control, Costly, Useless

A 12-page research report on the gypsy moth published last year, which proponents say still applies, concludes that spraying for control is costly and useless, and that natural eradication is the only sure means of eliminating the pest.

The Research and Records Committee of the John Burroughs Natural History Society has been making an intensive study of the gypsy moth in Ulster County for a decade.

Copy Available
In September 1964 this society published a 12-page report on this moth, a copy of which can be obtained from Daniel Smiley, Mohonk Lake, New Paltz, for a nominal fee.

This committee has been impressed by the great interest, yet wide-spread lack of information on the part of the general public. Therefore, it wishes to take this opportunity to present pertinent facts which should be considered before we decide to spray or not to spray.

The gypsy moth was introduced near Boston, Mass., from Europe nearly a century ago. It spread slowly through New England, where varying degrees of control were accomplished by various methods, chiefly spraying, and at a cost of many millions of dollars.

Permanent eradication of large infestations by spraying or any other known method has proved to be impossible. The gypsy moth still exists in New England and in Europe. In Europe it seems to be controlled fairly well in most years by its natural enemies. In this country, where such controls are not yet fully established, it occurs in sufficient numbers to defoliate several kinds of trees in some areas.

Spraying Ineffective
It is impossible under existing rules to kill all caterpillars in Ulster County by spraying from the air. These rules, by which the Conservation Department must operate, have been set up to protect humans, pets, domestic animals and bees.

The Department can only attempt to control the insect, not eradicate it, and only on forest lands. Its program cannot protect shade trees around homes.

Naturalists, ecologists and many of the general public are becoming increasingly concerned about the rapid contamination of our soils and waters by various kinds of pest control chemicals, even the so-called "harmless" ones such as Carbaryl (Sevin).

Natural controls are assisting in man's problem with the gypsy moth. Countless thousands of this insect are eaten by robins, grackles, starlings, orioles, cuckoos, other birds and mice. Parasitic insects also kill the gypsy moth at various stages of its life cycle. Unfortunately, spraying kills these beneficial parasites and may kill birds. A virus, which is harmless to humans, kills many of the caterpillars and pupae. It seems possible that this virus may ultimately prove to be the most effective factor in reducing the gypsy moth to reasonable proportions.

Concern Needless

The public's concern about tree defoliation is needlessly great. The gypsy moth rarely denudes the same trees in successive years. And even if it does, healthy trees will withstand defoliation several years in a row. During a mid-July visit to many places of earlier defoliation in Ulster County, this committee found most of the denuded trees to be growing a new set of leaves even in this year of drought. These new leaves will not be eaten by the gypsy moth caterpillars, because they have now pupated, turned to moths, laid eggs, and died.

The next new crop of gypsy moth caterpillars will not appear until May 1966.

Most of us can recall serious infestations of the Japanese beetle and the forest tent caterpillar not many years ago. Both these insects still exist but, due to weather factors and natural controls such as disease and parasitism, are not presently disturbing us.

1,000 Students Must Be Housed Off-Campus

ALBANY, N.Y. (AP) — The State University again is preparing to lodge up to 1,000 students at motels and other off-campus locations because dormitories at the Albany unit will not be ready for occupancy next month.

The State University Construction Fund confirmed Tuesday reports that officials had abandoned hope of completing work on several new buildings in time for first-semester use.

An area-wide construction strike has halted work on the project for eight weeks.

David W. Traub, general manager of the fund, said the move into the new buildings probably would be delayed until September 1966.

The Albany branch of the University, concerned about the delay, has maintained leases on about 15 annexes and is adding a few more.

The annexes were used last year by about 600 students who lived in motels while the three-story portion of the first dormitary was being completed.

Among the eight buildings under construction in Albany's western outskirts is a 22-story dormitory tower. It is designed to house 1,260 students. It was originally scheduled to be completed last January.

The construction strike by some union locals in the Albany area has slowed work on about $250 million worth of projects.

Subs Are Putting United States in Chinese Bomb Range

By TOM NOLAN
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.
WASHINGTON — (NEA) — The weapons experts who dismissed the first Chinese Communist nuclear explosion last October as an "atomic firecracker" now have some startling new evidence to consider. Although nobody is panicking, it is causing no little concern.

Peking is building a new long-range submarine capable of firing atomic missiles. It is estimated that within three years, possibly sooner, the Chinese Reds will be able to project a genuine nuclear threat across the Pacific Ocean.

Just a few years back, the words "Red Chinese Navy" were almost always good for a laugh in U.S. military circles. At best, they conjured up an image of a bunch of motorized junks flitting in and out of the fog around Hong Kong.

Although this image may still hold true for Peking's surface fleet, the Red Chinese undersea navy is altogether a different story.

Literally from scratch, Peking has built in less than a decade a submarine fleet which in numbers may be the third largest in the world. The latest breakdown in "Jane's Fighting Ships" ranks Red China fourth with 30 subs. Russia is first with 430 (including 30 nuclear-powered subs), the U.S. second with 198 (85 of which are nuclear-powered), Great Britain third with 50, and France fifth with 23.

Some sources now put the Red Chinese quantitative sub strength at 55, greater than Britain's.

Most of these subs are the Soviet type W-class craft, which have a round-trip range of 30,000 miles. They are armed only with conventional torpedoes.

But construction reportedly is under way on a larger Soviet type of the G-class, equipped with vertical tubes for missile launching. Its total range is over 40,000 miles.

This would give Peking the means of delivering nuclear payloads to American coastal cities. Current Chinese Communist missiles are believed to be accurate only up to 200 miles. Red China's longest range bomber, the TU-4, travels a total of about 4,000 miles.

Current Peking submarine strategy follows Mao Tse-tung's ideas on guerrilla warfare which interweave offensive and defensive actions to fit the circumstances. Until 1959, Peking sub training was most defensive in posture. Since then, it has been evolving to the offense.

In the early 1960's, U.S. Pacific Fleet Headquarters announced that joint Sino-Soviet submarine operations were being undertaken in the western Pacific. In 1963, India uncovered evidence that Chinese Communist subs were operating in the Bay of Bengal and Indian Ocean.

On the balance sheet, Red China—even with a fleet of missile-firing subs—does not pose much of a threat to the U.S. One military source notes that comparing Peking's primitive missiles to the heavy U.S. arsenal is like arguing the advantages of Poland's cavalry squadrons against Hitler's Panzer divisions in 1939.

But no nuclear threat is regarded lightly by military men anywhere. Developing a delivery system for missiles opens a Pandora's box of potential military threats.

Charles de Gaulle has advanced a theory that Russian aggression against any U.S. ally in Western Europe would be highly unlikely to bring U.S. intervention by strategic nuclear bombing. De Gaulle reasons that the U.S. would be deterred by the threat of immediate Russian retaliation against American cities. A similar theory may soon be argued by U.S. allies in Southeast Asia.

A few Chinese Communist missiles poised off the coast of California might, the theory goes, deter American nuclear reaction to open aggression by Peking in Asia.

To at least one American nuclear scientist, Dr. Edward Teller, the Red Chinese nuclear threat may be a blessing in disguise, since it may prompt early U.S. development of an effective missile defense.

"That the Chinese bomb is a real threat to peace, no one can doubt," says Teller. "Yet, if it elicits the correct positive response from us, we might find ourselves in the end in a much improved situation."

To Teller, the best missile defense is based on a rocket which need not hit the incoming warhead to destroy it, but which neutralizes it by merely approaching it. This can be done he says, only by a nuclear explosion.

Derby Contest Set at Newburgh

A contest lasting less than 60 seconds will net 12 lucky winners, one of them from this area, more than five thousand dollars in prizes.

The contest is The Great Hotpoint Roll-It Derby which will be held at Grand Union, 413 Broadway, Newburgh, on Thursday, Aug. 19, at 10 a. m.

The local Derby Trial which is open to ladies from 18 to 60 is built around the convenient, easy-rolling feature of the Hotpoint refrigerator. All that contestants are required to do is to push a refrigerator on wheels a distance of 12 feet. They then load the freezer compartment with an assortment of frozen foods and continue an additional 12 feet to the finish line.

Preliminary tests have proven that this can be accomplished in less than a minute. The winner—the contestant finishing in the shortest time—wins a $25 gift certificate for frozen foods and a chance to compete in the Grand Finals to be held at Shea Stadium, New York City, on Oct. 16, during half-time of a Jets-Oakland football game. Every contestant entering a Derby Trial will receive frozen food gift certificates.

Contest entry blanks and further information are available at Hi-Lo Department Store; Island Dock Lumber; Conway Brothers; Bert Wilde; City TV and Appliance and Miron Lumber.

Swipes Became More Caustic

Ford's Getting Rough Seen Reason for LBJ Accusation

By JAMES MARLO
Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP) — House Republican leader Gerald R. Ford of Michigan has been on President Johnson's back more than any top Republican in Congress. Johnson doesn't take persistent criticism lightly.

And Ford apparently was Johnson's target last Sunday when the President cut loose on a Republican he didn't name but accused of leaking information on a White House conference with congressional leaders about Viet Nam.

For most of this year the 52-year-old Ford, Republican House leader since January said little about Johnson, and most of it was mild. He began getting critical in June and stepped it up in July.

His swipes at the President were far more caustic than anything Johnson has said about Republicans this year. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, the Republicans' Senate leader, has been one of Johnson's greatest helpers.

Ford really got rough last month when the House passed the administration-sponsored civil rights bill on voting after turning down proposals for Ford and another Republican, Rep.

William M. McCulloch of Ohio, Johnson, congratulating the Democratic-run House, said the Ford-McCulloch measure would have "seriously damaged and diluted the guarantee of the right to vote for all Americans."

The next day, July 12, Ford and McCulloch fired back in a joint statement that Johnson doesn't like anyone to differ with him, is a "dangerous advocate of one-party government," is a "Lyndon-come-lately" on civil rights, had "traveled a crooked path" in that field, and until 1957 had voted "against civil rights 100 per cent."

Admits to Mistakes

Johnson held a news conference the next day. Asked about the Republican comments on his civil rights position, he said he was "particularly sensitive to the problems of the Negro." He said he wanted to do his best in that field "in the limited time that I am allowed. I did not have that responsibility in the years past, and I did not feel it to the extent that I do today. I am going to try to provide all of the leadership that I can, notwithstanding the fact that someone may point to a mistake or 100 mistakes that I made in my past."

Later in July, Ford urged the president to tell the nation "straight from the shoulder" what this country faces in Viet Nam. He said Johnson revealed "grim news in installments."

Background of Explosion

And he accused the administration of using a "sly type of log-rolling" to win House repeal of the federal law which lets states ban union shops. Then last Sunday Johnson exploded. This was the background:

On July 27 Johnson called congressional leaders of both parties to the White House to discuss the decisions he would soon announce on Viet Nam. Sen. Mike Mansfield of Montana, Senate Democratic leader, made some statements at this meeting which haven't been published yet.

On July 28 at a huge news conference, Johnson told the nation he was sending 50,000 more troops to Viet Nam, and was increasing the draft but was not going to call up the National Guard and the reserves.

Ford held what he called an informal background meeting with newsmen. He said this was after the White House meeting with congressional leaders. He didn't say what day but, reportedly, it was July 29.

Then there were reports of what was supposed to have happened at that White House conference, such as this: That Mansfield had talked Johnson out of calling up the National Guard and reserves.

Says LBJ Sensitive

When he met with newsmen at his ranch last Sunday, Johnson said a prominent Republican "broke my confidence" and "distorted" what happened. He said Mansfield never mentioned reserves and branded reports that he did "untrue and perhaps malicious." Then he threw this barb:

"Once in a while an inexperienced man or a new one, or a bitter partisan, has to play a little politics. I think they keep it to a minimum, generally speaking, but one or two of them will do it—and boys will be boys."

Ford quickly said he didn't know whom Johnson was talking about and confirmed the President's statement that Mansfield had said nothing about reserves. Tuesday Ford again denied he had anything to do with the alleged leak.

"I broke no confidence," he said, and then needed Johnson all over again by saying he had a suspicion the President "is very, very sensitive" because some prominent Democrats have been critical of his Viet Nam policies.

War Years Generate New Appraisal of Female Form

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — All of a sudden legs were in style. Bosoms were emphasized, too. The war years brought a new appreciation of the feminine form. Girl-starved GIs far from home yearned for female companionship, and Hollywood provided it with a flood of pin-up photographs.

Gazed Saucily

In Father's Troupe
Born Margarita Cansino in New York City, she danced in her father's troupe and made her film debut in "Dante's Inferno" 30 years ago. She was a bit player in B pictures at Columbia until Howard Hawks chose her for a role in the Cary Grant-Jean Arthur film "Only Angels Have Wings."

Rita was to star in five marriages and dozens of films, in which she was every GI's conception of sex appeal. Her most successful portrayal came a year after the war in "Gilda." Few red-blooded male moviegoers of that era can forget her sinuous rendition of "Put the Blame on Mame."

The stern hand of censorship still ruled Hollywood. In one scene, Rita's number obviously was meant to be a strip tease, but such was forbidden. She merely peeled down her long white gloves and detached her earrings and necklace. As she was about to lower a shoulder-strap of her black satin gown, Glenn Ford hauled her off the dance floor and slapped her.

Rules Adopted in 1934
The rules adopted in 1934 applied to film morals. Kisses were limited to approximately 10 seconds. An actor embracing a prone maiden had to keep one foot on the floor, like a billiard player.

As far as the Breen Office was concerned, navelts were nonexistent. Even kooch dancers were required to glue in rhinestones.

The world had undergone violent change but movies had not. The war brought unforeseen boom, and there was no reason to alter Hollywood's operation. Theater managers had little more to do than throw open the doors and let the entertainment-hungry crowds pour in.

Hollywood's prosperity continued in the early postwar period. Then something began to sour.

Didn't Ring True
Somehow the fairy tales that had charmed America in the 1930s didn't ring true in a nation that had been through a hot war and was facing a cold one. People had more money, and they found other things to do with it than sit in a darkened theater watching old-hat movies.

And in 1948, citizens began huddling in darkened living rooms every Tuesday night to watch Milton Berle get splashed in the face with a seltzer bottle.

Tomorrow: The troubled fifties and Marilyn Monroe.

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Says designer Edith Head: "The war years brought an emphasis on the legs. Partly this was due to the desire of men to see more legs, partly because of wartime restrictions in fabrics. The styles were good for dancers like Rita Hayworth. But it was an unfortunate era for fashion, with the stress on padded shoulders, narrow waists and long, floppy hair. It was also the period when the bust asserted itself, pushing up and out."

LIFTING A HOUSE — A Canadian company, Century Fibreglass Ltd. of Calgary, uses helicopters to transport the portable homes it produces to out-of-the-way locations. The prefabricated igloos are 14 feet wide, seven feet high and weigh 450 pounds.

Pollen Counting Starts in Area Near Pine Hill

A station at Pine Hill will be among the 31 communities in the state where daily pollen counts will be taken starting this week and continuing through Oct. 1, Dr. Hollis S. Ingraham, state health commissioner announced Tuesday.

The daily counts from these communities are available on request to newspapers, television and radio stations from the Department's Office of Public Health Education in Albany. Figure given will be in grains per square centimeter of the test slide. The stations are operated by volunteers with supplies furnished by the Department.

Other stations will be set up in: Albany Region—Albany, Canton, Glens Falls, Gloversville, Margaretville, Massena, Rotterdam, Schenectady, Troy, Marble Mountain, Plattsburgh, Hudson and Claverack; Buffalo Region—Batavia, Buffalo, Dunkirk, Niagara Falls, North Tonawanda, Jamestown, Olean, Salamanca and Warsaw; Rochester Region—Corning, Geneseo, Geneva and Hornell; Syracuse Region—Can-stota, Cortland and Utica. White Plains Region — Islip, Mineola, Newburgh, Shrub Oak, White Plains and Yonkers. "There are probably upwards of a million hay fever sufferers in New York State," Dr. Ingraham said, "and the cause of their misery is the pollen from the common ragweed." The plant, he says, has hairy green stems, feathery parted leaves and long spikes of green-to-yellow flowers that produce the pollen. Ragweed grows well in vacant lots, abandoned fields, along highways and wherever soil has been disturbed and where grass and other weeds do not interfere with it.

During the flowering season, a single ragweed plant can produce up to one billion pollen grains. Yet hay fever victims can be affected by counts of 7 grains per square centimeter.

"The hay fever victim typically has some or all of these symptoms: stuffy nose, itchy, runny eyes swelling or tickling palate," Dr. Ingraham said. However, he noted, reactions may range all the way to a severe and life threatening bronchial asthma. "Strangely enough," Dr. Ingraham said, "some ragweed sufferers may not even know that the cause of their problem is probably growing right in their neighborhood or backyard. Studies have demonstrated that the fallout of ragweed pollen is as high as 99 per cent at a distance of only 160 feet downwind of the plant."

"Thus, it is clear," he went on, "that the ragweed pollen in the victim's immediate neighborhood may be the most likely cause of his suffering. The best remedy," Dr. Ingraham concluded, "is to get rid of ragweed plants in your own back yard and neighborhood."

"Ragweed Hay Fever" a pamphlet explaining how to control ragweed, is available free to residents of New York State from county and city health departments, district health offices or by writing Hay Fever, Office of Public Health Education, New York State Health Department, 84 Holland Avenue, Albany, New York 12208.

Town of Kingston Seeks Candidates For Peace Justice

The Town of Kingston is seeking applicants to fill the office of Justice of the Peace until the next election.

The vacancy was created by the resignation of John O'Keefe, an employee of International Business Machines Corp., Kingston, who was transferred to Washington D. C.

Those interested in the position may contact any member of the Town Board not later than 6 p. m. Friday. The list of applicants will be reviewed and appointment made at the next regular Town Board meeting.

The other justice of the peace in the township is Robert Ferrigno, who was unsuccessful in his bid for the GOP nomination for sheriff at the unofficial Republican convention last month.

CLINTONDALE NEWS

CLINTONDALE — At the Monday night meeting of Clintondale Grange, Master Fred Eckert presided for the business meeting. Four guests from New Paltz Grange were welcomed. They brought an invitation for Clintondale Grange to join with New Paltz Grange at a picnic on the John Schrieber farm on Sunday, Aug. 8.

The Vechione family of New York are spending the summer at their place on Crescent Avenue. Several from here attended a picnic supper recently at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Parker Hull of Hyde Park. The Hulls occupied the homestead here on Hull Avenue for a number of years.

William Coy Jr. was one of the area fruit growers to attend a meeting at the Geneva Experiment Station. The party was also taken on tours of nearby farms. Mr. and Mrs. Roger Jenkins and two sons are spending a vacation in Canada visiting the Prince of Wales Island where they will visit Mr. Jenkins' grandfather.

Mr. and Mrs. William Walker and family are spending some time at their cottage on Lake George.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and sons are back from a week's vacation at Old Orchard Beach, Maine.

Charles Wickham, Main Street, has purchased the Gussie Evans place on Crescent Avenue. Mrs. Evans has been a patient at the New Paltz Infirmary.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank LaGuttata were recently given a party by the Tuckers Corners Neighbors in honor of Mr. LaGuttata's retirement from IBM and Mrs. LaGuttata's birthday.

Miss Joan Dingee of Long Island has been spending a few days in town.

Lord has been received of the death of Mrs. Walter Crew of Schenectady. Her husband was principal of the Clintondale school for several years and they lived here for that period.

Mr. and Mrs. Salatore Frisier, Crescent Avenue, have been entertaining the latter's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Melodia of Flushing, L. I.

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Satterfield and children and Miss Florence Cotant of Highland attended a cookout at the home of an Eastern Star member in Saugerties on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hyatt of Main Street have returned from a vacation at Cape Cod.

Harold Dingee held an auction of his personal goods at the Dingee home on Saturday and Monday.

Aldo Santini, who owns and operates the former Russell Rhodes garage on Main Street, has purchased the adjoining Frank Figlio property and plans on expanding his business space. The Figlio property is known to the older residents as the Homer York home.

The Rev. Gerald Sutch, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Satterfield and sons, Mrs. Mildred and Miss Donna Rorschach, Nellie Countryman and Mark Jenkins have returned from attending the yearly meeting of Friends held at Silver Bay on Lake George.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Simpson and family have returned from a two weeks camping trip in the Adirondacks.

Clintondale Fire Department, men and truck, will take part in the parade of the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association at Highland Saturday, Aug. 7. The company will be accompanied by the Minute Men band. A number of local men will attend the convention banquet at Patony's on Aug. 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Smith and two children have returned from a week's vacation in Maine.

The ladies of the Friends Church sold refreshments at the recent auction at the home of Harold Dingee.

Miss Kitty Garone has been on two weeks vacation from her position at IBM.

The joint service of the Methodist and Friends Churches will be held in the Friends Church Aug. 8, 15 and 22 with the Rev. Gerald Sutch in charge. On Aug. 29 the Rev. W. A. Robertson of the Methodist Church will conduct the service.

Roger Rosenkrans of this place is supplying the pulpit of the Modena Methodist Church while the pastor is away.

Clintondale Fire Department will hold its annual bazaar on the department's recreation field at the rear of the firehouse on the nights of Friday and Saturday, Aug. 20 and 21. There will be booths and stalls for the sale of snacks and refreshments, novelties and some for the amusement of the youngsters. Saturday night a big display of fireworks will be shown. Larry Capozzi, chief of the fire department is general chairman.

Salvatore Dolcemascio of this place is one of those in charge of tickets for the Town of Plattkill Republican Club outing on the Klein farm. The field will open at 1 p. m. for games and swimming and at 3 p. m. a chicken barbecue will be served.

Po'keepsie Man Gets State Tax Post

ALBANY — State Tax Commissioner Joseph H. Murphy today announced the appointment of Edward Hritz of Poughkeepsie as provisional senior excise tax examiner assigned to the Albany District Office of the State Tax Department. His salary will be $1,320 annually.

Hritz, who had been Poughkeepsie city sales tax administrator before the state sales tax law abolished local sales tax collection functions Aug. 1, will be in charge of a Poughkeepsie branch office of the Albany District Tax Office when that branch is established about Sept. 1, and will work under the supervision of Albany District Tax Supervisor Abraham J. Cutler, Commissioner Murphy said.

For the time being, Hritz will provide sales tax information and tax forms and instructions for Poughkeepsie area businessmen from a temporary office in the Poughkeepsie City Hall. The State Office of General Services, working with the State Tax Department, is currently negotiating for space for the Poughkeepsie branch and it is expected that a suitable office will be leased within the very near future.

When the Poughkeepsie branch is opened for operation, it will be staffed by Hritz, six tax examiners and one clerical employee. The office will be in operation to serve the needs of vendors and the public with sales tax problems. Commissioner Murphy said, and later it will provide field audit and collection services in Dutchess and Ulster Counties with 3,200 retail establishments.

Ulster 5 Vols Will Leave for Parade at 2

Members of the Ulster Hose Co. 5, one of 50 fire companies planning to participate in the Ulster County Volunteer Firemen's Association convention parade at Highland, Saturday, will leave the Albany Avenue Extension Firehouse at 2 p. m. promptly on that day.

Raymond Jackson, chairman of the company's uniform committee said he will be at the firehouse Friday from 7 to 9 p. m. and Saturday from 9 a. m. to 12 noon to issue uniforms to the members. He urges all company members to obtain uniforms and to be at the firehouse before 2 p. m. Saturday, because the buses will leave promptly at that hour.

The parade will start at 4 p. m. Aug. 7, with units forming at 3 p. m. The parade will form at Old Route 9W and the New Paltz Road.

In addition to the 50 fire companies, including 39 from Ulster County, there will be 18 ladies auxiliaries and 26 musical units in line.

Death May Result From Underwater Swimming Games

The danger of drowning from holding one's breath under water was stressed today by Gerhard Klemm, chairman of water safety of the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross.

Klemm was especially emphatic in his warning to children who compete with each other to see who can stay under the water the longest.

"Youngsters who play this game are asking for trouble, and possible tragedy," he declared.

"In recent months, at least three persons have died as a result. 'What happens physiologically is this,' Klemm explained. 'Before going under water, an individual takes several deep breaths in order to build up as much oxygen as possible in his lungs. This deep breathing, called hyperventilation, does increase the oxygen, but at the same time it lowers the carbon dioxide in the system.'

"After a period under water, because the carbon dioxide does not build up fast enough to trigger the breathing urge, the swimmer tends to stay under water too long and is in danger of blacking out. Unless help is at hand to get him to the surface very quickly, death will result."

"Many drownings could be avoided if these facts were understood," Klemm said. He urged that parents teach them to their children and that swimmers of all ages be made aware of them.

The water safety program of the Ulster County Chapter of the Red Cross is one of several programs carried on by the organization. Funds for the work are made available through voluntary contributions to the Ulster County Chapter of the American Red Cross or to the Ulster County Community Chest.

Methodist Activities

NEW PALTZ—The Rev. Roy Allan Hassell, pastor of the New Paltz Methodist Parish, has announced the following schedule of events for this week.

Sunday service of worship at the New Paltz Church, Main and Grove Streets, will be held at 11 a. m. during the month of August with this week's sermon by the pastor entitled, Growing Impatience, The Wrong Tool.

A nursery class will be available for children 1-7 in the Educational Building during the 10 a. m. worship hour. The organist is Mrs. Kenneth Baumgartner and the offertory music will be presented by the male quartet. The Sacrament of Baptism will be observed at the 10 a. m. service. Those who wish to present their children at this time may contact the pastor not later than Saturday morning.

Monday God and Country candidates will meet at 4 p. m. in the church office; 7:45 p. m. the Official Board will meet in the social room for the first meeting since June. Tuesday the pastor will lead members of Vista on a tour of the migrant camps in the area in conjunction with the work of the New Paltz Area Migrant Committee.

Wednesday 8 p. m. the WSCS will meet for the final session before the summer fair to be held on the church lawn Saturday from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. The meeting will be held in the Social Room of the Church, Saturday. The annual summer fair of the New Paltz Methodist WSCS will be held on the church lawn from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. with booths of home made articles featured and refreshments will be available. In case of inclement weather the fair will be held in the social hall.

The Plutarch Methodist Church will meet for worship at 8:45 a. m. Sunday with this week's sermon entitled, Growing Impatience, The Wrong Tool by the pastor, Tuesday the monthly congregational meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Rexford Schneider, Plutarch Road, at 8 p. m. All members of the congregation may attend this meeting at which time a report of the annual strawberry festival will be presented.

The Methodist Men's Club of the New Paltz Methodist Church will sponsor a trip to Shea Stadium Aug. 27 to see the Mets play the Giants. They will leave New Paltz at 6 p. m. and tickets, both bus and game tickets, are available from Len Coy, Ken Baumgartner and Paul Steiner.

Body Found in Pond

PENN YAN, N.Y. (AP)—The body of Robert Earl Tears, 36, of Penn Yan, was recovered Tuesday from a pond on his family's farm three miles northwest of this Yates County community. Tears had lived with his father on the farm. A certificate of death by accidental drowning was issued by Dr. John Schultz, a county coroner.

America stands poised on a pinnacle of wealth and power, yet we live in a land of vanishing beauty, of increasing ugliness, of shrinking open space, and of an over-all environment that is diminished daily by pollution and noise and blight.

The time is approaching when the number of divorces will equal the number of marriages. Love is evidently finding a way out.

It has been asked why more Americans do not own hippopotamuses. It probably is because none of the installment stores have thought about selling hippopotamuses at a dollar down and a dollar a week thereafter.

Auto Daredevils Scheduled Sunday at Ontario Speedway

A 90-minute program featuring the International Auto Daredevils and the Canadian Auto Daredevils is scheduled Sunday night at Ontario Speedway Park in Olive Bridge. The show will be presented before the regular stock car program.

The spectacular high speed action will be climaxed by veteran thrill show driver Hank Thompson's spectacular 65-foot "dive bomber" crash, the longest aerial car leap on record.

Also appearing on the program will be Dick Cobb of Toronto, Canada; Don Novak of Vancouver, B. C.; Danny Day of Detroit; Richie Leroux, Montreal; Bobby O'Connor, Glendale, Calif.; and Denny Dearborn of Philadelphia. These famed drivers will compete in a roll over contest, the slide for life, precision driving contests, plus other thrilling events.

Show Has Clown
On the lighter side, "Crash" Cruncher, the thrill show clown, will have his turn on the track and try to duplicate the feat of the star performers. Cruncher is the ablest clown in the business and is sure to bring laughter with his crazy antics.

The stock racing schedule includes the usual qualifying heats, a 25-lap feature and the smashing, crashing sedan.

Thrill races are scheduled at 8 p. m., with the stock cars following.

Mrs. Kennedy Is W.C.C. Medalist

Mrs. Harry Kennedy posted a 36-hole score of 176 to earn medalist honors in the qualifying round for the Woodstock Country Club women's Championship Flight. Mrs. George Rusk was runner-up with 184.

Mrs. Kenneth Charlton, defending champion, was exempted from the qualifying round.

First Round Matches
Mrs. Charlton vs. Mrs. John Sullivan; Mrs. Homer Bernard vs. Mrs. David Fogel; Mrs. Kenneth Schwarz vs. Mrs. Rusk; Mrs. Kennedy vs. Mrs. Walter Van Wagoner; Mrs. Joseph Fitzsimmons vs. Mrs. Arnold Broggi; Mrs. Alex Sharpe, Jr. vs. Mrs. Floyd A. Little Wins In Net Play

Dick Little of Kingston, sixth seeded in the men's singles, advanced to the round of 16 with a 7-0 whitewash over Friendly Inn last night.

The regular season is slated to close this evening when Glasco A. C. opposes Southside Men's Club.

If the A. C. wins, it will capture honors. A Southside victory will throw the race into a three-way tie and force a playoff.

W. C. Lindsay hurled a three-hitter at the Inn. His mates picked up eight safeties off the slants of Sam Tesoriero. Jim Wright led the attack with a pair of doubles.

Vogt's Home Run Wins for Cubs

Dan Vogt's grand slam home run in the last of the sixth brought the Callahan Cubs a come-from-behind, 5-2, win over the Canfield Electric Braves in a National Little League game last evening.

Wayne Menzel benefited from the homer as he picked up the win. Tony Lindsay was a tough luck loser.

Dick Short had the only other extra base blow — a double. Mike Adams stroked three of the losers' five hits and Short had the other pair. Vogt and Mike Betkowski had two hits each for the Cubs.

Tops Mrs. Newell By One Stroke In First Round

Mrs. Richard Stewart of Wiltwyck Country Club will carry a one stroke lead over Mrs. Prescott Newell of the same club into the final round of the Ulster County Women's Golf Association champions next Tuesday at The Twaalfskill Club.

A 16-handicap player, Mrs. Stewart led the opening round Tuesday with a 44-44-88 over the par 34-34-68 Shawangunk Country Club layout at Ellenville.

Mrs. Newell, 17 handicap, posted 42-47-89 and Mrs. Bess Chilson (Twaalfskill), one of the pre-tournament favorites is two strokes off the pace with 44-46-90.

Mrs. Stewart and Mrs. Newell also share the net lead with 72's. Mrs. Chilson's net was 75.

Miss Shriver Third
Third place in the net division is held by Miss Helen Shriver of Shawangunk with 105-32-73. Locked in a four-way tie with net 74's were: Mrs. Harry Rieger, Shawangunk, 104-30; Mrs. E. D. Raymond Jr., Shawangunk, 104-30; Mrs. Harry Thayer, Twaalfskill, 96-22; and Mrs. Howard DeWitt, Wiltwyck, 95-21-74.

Mrs. Floyd DeWitt (110-33), Woodstock, and Mrs. Gerald Gruber (100-23), Wiltwyck, were tied with net 77's.

Two Wiltwyck players tied with net 78's—Mrs. George C. Rifenburg, 100-22; and Mrs. Arthur Motzkin, 95-17.

Mrs. Martin Fields, Shawangunk, 113-31, and Mrs. George Rusk, Twaalfskill, 98-18, tied with net 80's.

The tournament was held on a clear, cool day over a beautifully manicured course. Mrs. A. J. (Wiggie) de Liso of Woodstock, the tournament's six-time champion, was present as a spectator.

Tournament officials announced that the original pairings and starting times for all players would prevail for next Tuesday's finals at Twaalfskill.

Stars Alive in Western Amateur
LAKE FOREST, Ill. (AP) — The Western Junior Girls Golf Tournament was to be cut to semifinal size today when two rounds of match play were scheduled.

The first round Tuesday found all five of Monday's co-medalists surviving, although Jane Bastanchury of Whittier, Calif., had to go 20 holes before eliminating Paulette Erickson of Atlanta 1-up.

Kristen Gilbertson of Stillwater, Minn., who was among the top qualifiers with a 73 Monday, shot a one-over-par 75 at the Onwentsia club for 18 holes and eliminated Margaret Dwyer of Geneva, N.Y., 3 and 1.

The three other co-medalists turned in easy victories. Carmen Piascecki of South Bend, Ind., defeated Linda Fuller of Union City, Mich., 3 and 2; Jacqueline Fladoos of Dubuque, Iowa, ousted Delaney Jane Smith of Williamsville, N.Y., 4 and 2; and Candace Michaeloff of Minneapolis won over Cecily Schauer of Clarence, N.Y., 4 and 3.

Tarr's End Play Takes Feature

MONTICELLO—The featured seventh race at Monticello Raceway was won last night by Tarr's End Play in 2:07.2. George Szklai was in the sulky behind the six-year-old Son of Knight Dream—overbid in recording the half-length victory.

Owned by the Lorelei Stable of New York City, Tarr's End Play was sent to the front shortly after the three-eighths pole and was never threatened seriously thereafter. Calumet Wil, Larry Rolla up, made a rush at the leader through the stretch but had to settle for second. Proclaim, Bill Pofinger driving, finished third.

In winning his third race of the year, Tarr's End play returned $7.20, $3.60 and $2.60 across the board.

Last night's 8 and 8 daily double paid $182.80 when MacLawhon won the first with Carolina Choo Choo and then Perry Martin took the second behind Stacey Star.

The twin double at the Mighty M paid $758.80. Winning combination was 5-7-3-5. Tuesday $117.80. Winning combination evening's perfecta returned $117.80. Winning combination was 1-7.

A crowd of 5,625 was on hand to wager $325,260.

Beissinger and Jim Grundy Top Mighty M Drivers
MONTICELLO—With Monticello Raceway's 1965 meeting a little more than half finished, reinsmen Howard Beissinger and Jim Grundy hold substantial leads in the current driver's standings. Beissinger heads the Mighty M pilots in the percentage department while Grundy tops the dash-winning column.

Beissinger, a 22-year-old native of Hamilton, Ohio who is the contact trainer-driver for the powerful string owned by the late Byron D. Kuth, has put on a burst the last week at Monticello and drawn away from his nearest opponent, Fred Bradbury. Beissinger and Bradbury had been involved in a tight race but consistent in-the-money finishes by Beissinger have boosted his average to a healthy .425 as of Monday night, August 2.

Grundy, a hard-driving, 30-year-old Canadian, had been on a five day vacation handed to him by the Mighty M judges for an interference infraction. Jim didn't get back until last Saturday night but promptly won his first start. With an additional victory on the same night and another Monday, Jim's total dash wins now reads 38. With 67 more programs of racing left at the Mighty M, it appears that Grundy has an excellent chance of breaking Carmine Abbatiello's record of 57 wins during the 1963 season.

Trenton Berth To Van Steenberg
Stretch Van Steenberg, the Saugerties stock car veteran, scored his seventh and most important victory of the season at Accord Speedway. He won the Trenton 200 Qualifier to assure himself a starting position in the National championship race on August 22 at the Trenton track.

Ernie Beesmer placed second, followed by Gordon Aldrich, Art Dickinger and Al Dymond. Don Hoose won another Sedan feature to keep alive his hopes of overhauling Doug Tyler in the points standings. Tyler was a close second, trailed by Del Lyons, Gordon Hall and Mike DeGraff.

George Christiana took an early lead and went on to win his second victory in the 15-lap Novice feature.

Heat winners included Pat Patterson, Van Steenberg, Ron Santosky, Doug Tyler and George Christian.

Brilliant Field Expected to Vie In 27-Hole Play

After several years on the regular Monday circuit of the Northeastern New York PGA, the Woodstock Open returns to its traditional date—the third Friday in August on Aug. 20, it has been announced.

Golf chairman A. J. (Tony) d'Lisa has predicted one of the finest fields in the long history of the area's top golf classic. In addition to the Northeastern regulars invitations have been extended to several outstanding professionals in the mid-Hudson region.

The guaranteed first prize of $200 is expected to lure several topnotchers who have not played in the tournament for several years.

Amateurs must have handicaps of five or less to compete. Heading the Northeastern field will be its current champion, Ed Kroll of Cooperstown Country Club, generally rated as the finest player in the Northeastern circuit.

Five-Time Champion
Among the past champions who will be on hand for the 27-hole event are five-time winner Armand Farina of Schenectady; Jim Farina; Alex Gerlak of Twaalfskill; Walter Brown, former West Point pro now at Morone; Fred Lux of Dutchess; Claude Young of Winding Brook and Alex Sinclair of Mohawk.

The amateur contingent is headed by Bill Van Aken, Woodstock Country Club champion who won the event in 1960; Carlton Traver of Rhinebeck, another champion; Dom Mangino of Albany and area stars like Harvey Bostic, Leon Randall, Buzzy Costello and George Hughes.

Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, a seven-time New York State Amateur champion and four-time National finalist, is expected to make his annual pilgrimage to the village links.

Other Open regulars include Scotty Robertson of Wiltwyck; Bill Gressick, Catskill; John Gaucas, the Northeastern secretary from Van Schaick (Cohoes); Lou Pedulla, Highmount; Guy Farina, Caroga Lake; Bob Tut-hill, Sacandaga; Frank Misarti, Cobleskill and many others.

James Cleveland Cops Trap Trophy

James Cleveland captured first prize in the Saugerties Fish and Game Club Inter-Club Trap Trophy Shoot at the Washington Avenue range. Second place trophy went to Alex Hochner and Woodrow Spel Jr. won the Junior trophy. Each contestant fired 50 rounds.

First place trophy was donated by Leroy Longendyke. Trap activities were conducted by Robert Spel, chairman, and his committee.

Tentative dates for coming events are: August 8 — Open trap trophy shoot, with rain date of Aug. 15. Practice from 12 noon to 2 p. m., when the trophy shoot starts.

August 29 — Turkey shoot with rain date of Sept. 5. Shoot starts at 10 a. m. and will continue until dark. Both events will be held at the club trap range on Washington Avenue Extension.

Select Cuppers For Inter-Zone

NEW YORK (AP) — Dennis Ralston, Frank Froehling, Arthur Ashe and Clark Graebner will represent the United States in the Davis Cup inter-zone finals against Spain later this month in Barcelona.

Announcement of the selections was made Tuesday night by non-playing Capt. George R. MacCall and Davis Cup Committee Chairman W. H. Woods shortly before the squad departed for Spain.

MacCall, Woods and the players were to arrive in Barcelona today for the Aug. 17-19 showdown.

The U.S. squad came to New York from Dallas, Tex., where it whipped Mexico 4-1 for the American Zone title, and MacCall scoffed at reports that the Americans would be underdogs against Spain.

MacCall labeled Manuel Santana a very fine tennis player but quickly added, "We have two very strong players to throw at him. The Spanish courts are slower, and we have fine slow court players in Ralston and Froehling."

No Complaints About Spitball

CINCINNATI (AP) — National League managers who have gripes about their opponents' using the illegal spitball ought to put their complaints into writing, league President Warren C. Giles announced.

"If a manager has a complaint about an illegal pitch he should make it to me and the league in writing," Giles said Tuesday.

He added that even though he has seen public statements about the spitball, no such complaints have arrived at his office.

The latest accusation came from Milwaukee where Braves Manager Bobby Bragan charged that the San Francisco Giants pitchers were using the illegal pitch.

Eleven Are Tied For Skeet Title

SAVANNAH, Ga. (AP) — Eleven marksmen are involved in a shootoff today to determine the 28-gauge champion at the World Skeet Championships. All 11 fired perfect 100s Tuesday to create the tie.

One of the shooters, Mrs. Betje Annan of Aspen, Colo., was only the third woman to smash 100 targets in the event while competing in a world meet.

in a three-way shootoff gave Capt. Strother Shumate of Lackland Air Force Base, Tex., the 410-gauge title Tuesday. Shumate defeated Ken Wilson of Twenty Nine Palms, Calif., and Clint Swingle of Bryn Mawr, Pa., who fired 49s. All three shot 98s on Monday to create the tie.

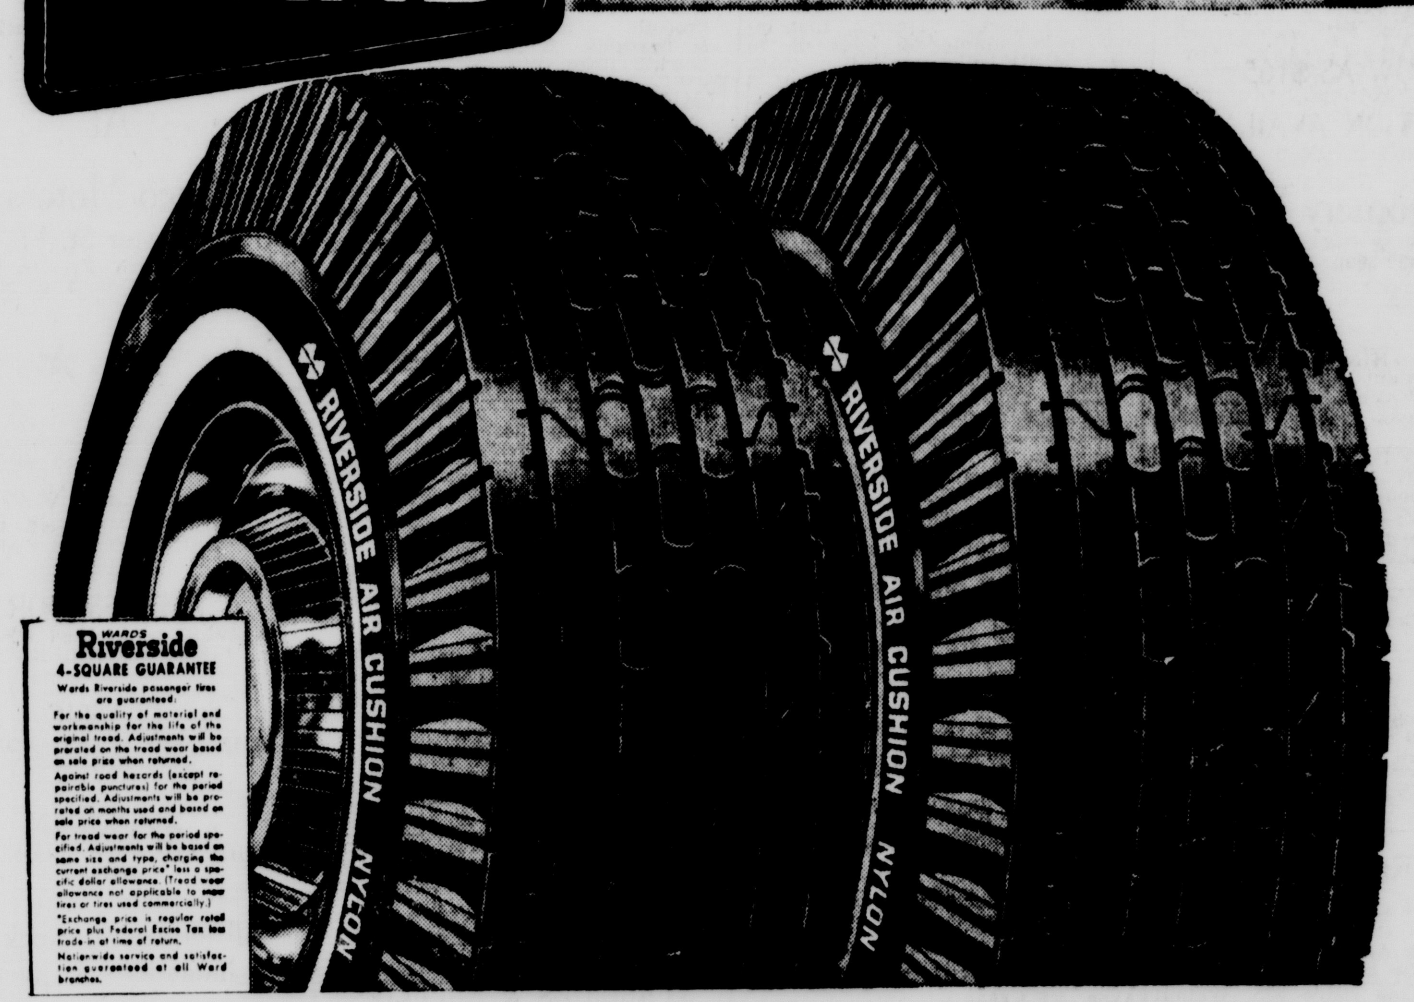

George Young of Beaufort, S.C., defeated Larry Smith of Bloom Hills, Mich., 48-47 in a shootoff for the Champion of Champions title. The event was open only to state champions.

Zimmer Shrugs Off Goat Horns

By DICK COUCH. Associated Press Sports Writer.

Washington's Don Zimmer, who has had plenty of ups and downs in his 12 years as a major leaguer, shrugged off goat horns Tuesday night and led the Senators to a 4-2 victory over Minnesota in the second game of a doubleheader.

The American League-leading Twins, playing without injured star Harmon Killebrew, took the opener 4-3, scoring the deciding run on third baseman Zimmer's double error in the seventh inning. Zimmer made amends with a tie-breaking two-run double in the fifth inning of the nightcap and left-hander Mike McCormick made the margin stand up with a six-hitter.

The doubleheader split, coupled with Baltimore's 5-2 victory over the Los Angeles Angels, trimmed Minnesota's league lead over the second-place Orioles to 5 1/2 games.

Elsewhere, Chicago edged New York 3-2 on Ron Hansen's bases-loaded triple; Detroit struck for nine runs in the fifth inning and buried Cleveland 12-7, and Boston routed Kansas City 10-5 with an extra base at-tack that included four triples and a three-run homer by pitcher Earl Wilson.

Zimmer, 34-year-old trouble-shooter for Gil Hodges' Senators, is no stranger to adversity. While at St. Paul in 1953, he was bearded by a fastball and nearly lost the sight of his left eye but bounced back to win a job with the Brooklyn Dodgers the next season.

Another errant pitch broke his cheekbone in 1956 but he was back in the lineup 10 days later. Then, after six years with the Dodgers and National League stints at Chicago, New York, Cincinnati and Los Angeles again, he came to the Senators in 1963 and has been the team's handyman ever since.

Used as Catcher. Hodges has used the 5-foot-9 scrapper at third, second, short, in the outfield and - most recently - behind the plate. Pressed into duty as a catcher during spring training, Zimmer broke the middle finger on his right hand in his third game - and was back catching a week later.

He was at third Tuesday night because regular Ken McMullen is nursing an injured hand.

Zimmer, nursing a fractured, bleeding average finger after committing three errors in the opener, including the costly bobbles in the seventh when he booted Zoilo Versalles' grounder and then threw wildly as pitcher Jim Grant raced home from first with the Twins' fourth run.

The first of Frank Howard's two homers in the twin bill pulled the Senators within one run in the eighth but Grant got his 13th victory, tops in the league, with relief help from Bill Pleis and Al Worthington.

Versalles evened the nightcap at 2-2 with a two-run homer in the third inning but Zimmer's double broke the tie after singles by Willie Kirkland and Dick Nen in the fifth.

Curt Blefary drove in two runs with a sacrifice fly and his 15th homer and Norm Siebern delivered a pair with a double and single, leading the Orioles past Los Angeles. Steve Barber picked up the victory, his 10th, in relief of Wally Bunker, forced in the sixth with a blister on his pitching hand.

Fisher Is Saver. Hansen's three-run double off Mel Stottlemyre with two out in the fourth inning erased a 2-0 New York lead and knuckled out Eddie Fisher wrapped it up for the White Sox with a 2-2 scoreless relief innings. John Buzhardt was the winner, boosting his career record against the Yankees to 6-0.

The Tigers strafe rookie Steve Hargan and two successors for eight hits - two by Bill Freehan - in the fifth inning explosion after Cleveland had broken to a 7-2 early lead. Freehan started the rally with a double and singled home two runs before the inning was over. Releaser Terry Fox checked the Indians on one run over the final five innings.

Wilson accounted for Boston's last three runs with his fourth homer of the season in the seventh inning. Triples by Lennie Green, Russ Nixon, Rico Petrocelli and Carl Yastrzemski helped the Red Sox build a 10-0 lead before the A's finally got to Wilson, now 8-8, for three runs in the eighth and a two-run homer by Bill Bryan in the ninth.

The trip will begin at the Andy Lee Memorial Field, Woodstock, at 9 a. m. Bring along your own box lunch. Parents and other members of cub-scout families will be welcome to come along.

Justly Scottish Cops Dillon Trot

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS.

Justly Scottish overtook My Opinion in the last stride to win the first division of the $18,750 Lou Dillon trot at Yonkers Raceway Tuesday night.

The 2-year-old filly drew the New York State harness racing spotlight to Yonkers as she finished the mile in 2:07 3-5, winning by a nose and paying $15-20. Worthy Polly showed.

In the second division, also worth $18,750, Little Miss Mitzie led all the way to beat Meadow Janice by a length in 2:08 2-5. The two were coupled as a common interest entry and paid $3-20. Cologne Hanover showed.

In other featured races: -At Buffalo Raceway, Deputy Hanover won the $1,000 trot in 2:06 1-5, capturing the track's trotting championship for 2-year-olds. Niagara Bullet was second and Astair was third. The winner paid $8.

-At Vernon Downs, White Ribbons won the $2,000 trot by 1 1/4 lengths over Jacques Mir to pay $4.80. Hope Gallon was third. Time for the mile was 2:05.

-At Saratoga, Victory Laura led the first division of the $1,500 trot in 2:12 4-5, paying $22-20. Second Guess placed. Spring Vickey showed.

In the second division, Rich Hup trotted to the wire in 2:09 3-5 to pay $7.65. Diller Dell placed. High Steps showed.

$750,000 Rent. Hofheinz says he already has the $750,000 yearly rent, which must be paid to Harris County, the stadium owner, on Aug. 15.

Home attendance has been phenomenal this year - almost 1 1/2 million so far, or nearly a million more than for the same period last year.

If the Astros again finish next to last, however, what about next year when the newness of the $31.6 million stadium has worn off?

He can forget about asking Smith for help.

Smith retained 10 per cent of the stock, but he let it be known Tuesday, for the first time publicly, what he really thinks of Hofheinz.

"Roy is just too autocratic," said Smith. "There's no such thing as a friendly relationship between him and me."

To listen to Hofheinz, however, you'd never think he had any troubles. He talks glowingly about the future, particularly about obtaining a National Football League franchise.

If Biletnikoff can turn in a performance similar to the one in the Gator Bowl when Florida State defeated Oklahoma 36-19, the Cleveland Browns will be in trouble when they tangle with the All-Stars in Soldier Field Friday night.

Biletnikoff caught 12 passes for 192 yards and four touchdowns in the Gator Bowl game. He shrugged off the heroics by saying "everything went right that day."

But pro scouts and the All-Star coaches know Biletnikoff's showing was no accident.

Howard (Hopalong) Cassidy, who is coaching the All-Star receivers, said "Fred is good enough to play on any team in any league. He has tremendous balance with quick, deliberate moves. He has natural football instinct to find the open alley."

Briggs Pleads Innocent to 2 Charges in Troy

TROY, N. Y. (AP) — Norman Briggs, a Troy insurance man who disappeared five years ago after diving into a reservoir near here, pleaded innocent today to charges of child-abandonment and insurance fraud.

The case was adjourned until Sept. 8.

Two motions by his lawyer to strike down the charges were denied by Judge John T. Casey in Rensselaer County Court. The lawyer had contended the wording of the indictments was faulty and unclear.

Briggs, 33-year-old father of two, is free to travel wherever he wishes, the court said.

His former wife collected approximately $117,000 in insurance benefits after his disappearance. She later remarried and has agreed to return the insurance benefits.

Bomb 30 Miles

time early today, only six days after about 3,700 of the paratroopers landed at Cam Ranh Bay 180 miles northeast of Saigon.

A U.S. spokesman said guerrillas harassed men of the division with small arms fire but American casualties were "very light."

The paratroopers set up defensive positions around the harbor to provide security for Army engineers constructing a base there.

The Viet Cong inflicted "moderate" to "heavy" casualties on government forces in three other scattered actions, a military spokesman said. He gave this report:

Force Ambushed

An estimated battalion of guerrillas ambushed a regional force on a road-clearing mission near Tay Ninh, 40 miles northwest of Saigon. A relief force dispatched to the scene did not make contact with the Viet Cong.

Another Viet Cong group hit the district town of Thoi Binh, in An Xuyen Province 145 miles southwest of the capital. Six Viet Cong were killed and left behind as the defenders fought off the attack with the help of artillery.

Twelve civilians were killed and regional force losses were "heavy" in another Communist attack against Tam Binh outpost, 100 miles southwest of the capital. Communications were lost with the outpost but later re-established after the Viet Cong broke contact. Ten Viet Cong were reported killed.

Communist mortar and small arms attacks on several posts around Saigon were reported during the night, but casualties were described as light.

Military authorities announced that the U.S. manpower buildup in Viet Nam had reached approximately 80,000 as of July 29. This included 39,000 Army, 25,300 Marines, 11,200 Air Force, 4,400 Navy and 100 Coast Guard.

More Cong Losses

Vietnamese government casualties during the week ended July 31 totaled 815 compared with 857 Viet Cong losses for the same period, a military spokesman announced.

In the same week, 15 Americans were killed and four others were missing, or captured, the official said. During the previous week, 12 Americans were reported killed and three missing or captured.

Of the government casualties, which rose from 725 the previous week, 235 were killed, 480 wounded and 100 missing or captured.

On the Viet Cong side, 760 were claimed killed and 97 others were taken prisoner. The figures on Viet Cong dead were usually the result of estimates from the air.

The spokesman said military activity increased slightly during the week but main force Viet Cong units continued to avoid contact.

Heavy air attacks on suspected Viet Cong positions in South Viet Nam continued with pilots reporting breaking up enemy concentrations in several strikes.

Authorities estimated more than 200 Communists were killed but the figure was not confirmed by body count.

In one mission 315 miles north of Saigon, two B-57s reportedly struck a large concentration of Viet Cong believed massing for an attack against a nearby outpost. The strike in Quang Ngai Province was credited with preventing the assault.

"The outpost looked from the air as if it was in danger of being hit," said Capt. Gale H. Manning, 33, of Columbus, Ohio.

"We slammed them with bombs and then made strafing runs. On one pass, as the Viet Cong were retreating, I noticed a mortar firing on the outpost. I hit it and wiped it out."

Premium May Go Up

WASHINGTON (AP)—The $3 monthly premium for the optional doctor-bill coverage in the new health care plan for the aged probably will have to be raised within a few years.

Undersecretary of Welfare Wilbur J. Cohen made that prediction Tuesday but added he would hope the increase will be small.

Doctors costs have been rising and the trend is expected to continue, Cohen said.

The $3 monthly fee applies to a supplemental plan available July 1, 1966, to those 65 and older. The basic hospital coverage is provided for all the elderly without cost to them.

Museum Village Elects Rigby To Trustee Post

MONROE — The Board of Trustees of Museum Village, Smith's Cove elected six new board members at their meeting on Monday. Elected to serve three year terms were Harry Rigby of Kingston, and Frederick G. Hulise, Monroe; two year terms, George Reed, Harrison and Dr. T. Mitchell Buntant, Monroe; for one year terms, C. Guy Stephenson of Goshen and Mr. Odell S. Hathaway of Middletown.

Museum Village of Smith's Cove has operated in recent years with a board of nine members. Growth of the village to 35 buildings influenced the decision of the museum board to increase the number of members to 15.

The Museum was established in 1950 by R. W. Smith, Monroe industrialist, after acquiring a large collection of Americana.

Resnick Silent

The Freeman went to press. But city Democratic chairman James T. McCordle stated that "the best thing Mr. Resnick can do for us now is to stay in Washington and mind his Washington business."

McCordle added that "We've handled our city elections before and we don't need any help from him (Resnick) now."

Garragan was chosen Democratic mayoral candidate on the second ballot at the party's unofficial city convention July 22. Frank Koenig, former two-term alderman from the Ninth Ward was selected to run for alderman-at-large.

Opposed to Klein

At the time of the convention, Resnick released a statement to the effect that he was opposed to the re-election in September of County Democratic Chairman Aaron E. Klein. He added that he felt "the Democratic Party needs new blood in Ulster County."

Kaye served as alderman-at-large for three terms under the administration of Mayors Edwin F. Radel and John J. Schwenk. He lives with his family at 125 Emerson Street.

The city Democratic primaries will be held Tuesday, Sept. 14. The busy schedule for the coming week of Congressman Resnick includes an appearance at a regional public hearing conducted by the Hudson Valley Commission Monday 10 a. m. at Gov. Clinton Hotel.

The hearing held in various locations along the Hudson River are held to get the opinions, recommendations and suggestions of representatives of all agencies, organizations, associations and other groups, as well as individuals on the present and future development and use of the Hudson River drainage basin.

Thursday morning the congressmen will attend hearings in Poughkeepsie on the proposed tap of river water by New York City. He opposes the tap. Sunday he will attend the dedication of Skypark Airport in Red Hook and later in the day, the dedication of the Mountain Top Medical Building at Lexington, Greene County.

Feel New Troops

Earle G. Wheeler chairman of the Joint Chief of Staff; Adm. U.S. Grant Sharp, Pacific commander, and Gen. William C. Westmoreland, U.S. commander in Viet Nam.

The Viet Cong, since the major attack on Dong Xoai more than a month ago, has been relatively inactive.

The presence of more American troops in South Viet Nam already has had a sobering effect upon the Communists, officials believe.

Because of the American air offensive, officials say, the Viet Cong is having trouble getting fresh supplies. Even getting produce to market in North Viet Nam is becoming a problem, they say.

While the Viet Cong controls 60 per cent of South Viet Nam, much of this is wasteland and mountains. More important is the Communist control of about 35 per cent of the country's people.

Car Hits Mine

TEL AVIV, Israel (AP)—Four Israeli border guards were wounded when their car hit a mine along the Israel-Jordan armistice line southwest of Jerusalem, an army spokesman said today.

Israeli authorities have complained to the Jordan-Israel Mixed Armistice Commission. It marked the latest of a series of incidents along the Israel-Jordan border in recent months. Each side has accused the other of aggressive acts.

Condition Is Poor

The condition of Andrew J. Bosworth, 77, of Dug Road, New Paltz, who was injured Thursday afternoon, July 29 in a bicycle-car accident on Route 299 at the intersection of Springtown Road, New Paltz, was reported as poor early this afternoon at Benedictine Hospital. Bosworth's bicycle was in collision with a car operated by Clayton D. Quick, 54, of 4 William Street, Kerhonkson. Troopers said Bosworth was thrown through the windshield.

Fulford Is Fair

Wallace W. Fulford, 23, of 83 Mead Court, High Falls, who was injured July 30 when he was thrown from a vehicle after an accident on Pine Street, Rifton, this afternoon was reported in fair condition at Kingston. His condition previously was listed as serious. Troopers reported the vehicle went down an embankment and hit a tree head-on.

Financial and Commercial

NEW YORK (AP)— Selective strength pushed the stock market a little ahead early this afternoon. Trading was moderately active.

Gains of pivotal issues were from fractions to around a point, with most changes small. A tentative advance was under way among stocks, motors, rails, airlines, rubbers and coppers, but each group contained plenty of dead spots.

Defense issues were mixed, displaying no immediate response to President Johnson's request to congress for $1.7 billion more to increase military strength in Viet Nam.

Some of the electronics reflected buying but much of this was in fits and starts.

The Associated Press average of 50 stocks at noon was up 6 at 327.7 with industrials up 4, rails up 5 and utilities up 4.

The Dow Jones industrial average at noon was up 2.57 at 883.77.

Young Couple Make Excellent Start

Q: "We are a newly-married couple, both in our middle 20s. We both work and we have no children. Our assets include $13,000 in the bank and 20 shares of American Telephone. We manage to save at the rate of $400 a month. We are considering the purchase of a home at the $25,000 level, in two years. Is it advisable to continue to build up cash for a home or should we buy stocks?"

A: Congratulations to a young couple who have made an excellent start. I do feel that, if circumstances eventually permit, "a home of our own" should be the goal of married couples. Your plan of building cash for a large down-payment is basically a sound one, for carrying charges would then be lower. Yet you must also consider that you would be paying off your balance in cheaper dollars, for while inflation has sometimes been slowed down, it has never been completely halted.

I feel it would be wise to let your bank money accumulate interest without adding to it for two years, and start building a stock portfolio.

Q: "I am 67-years-of-age and retired. I own shares of many quality stocks including: General Electric; General Motors; General Telephone; Sears, Roebuck; Lockheed and Chase Manhattan Bank. I also own 700 shares of Denver, Rio Grande & Western. I have a nice profit here, but the stock has done nothing for two years. Should I sell or switch to another rail?"

A: You do have a good list of blue chip issues. I advise continued holding of them all, including Lockheed, although its record does not quite stack up to the others.

As to Denver, Rio Grande & Western, the yield is above average on a reasonable secure dividend, there has been no earnings growth here for a number of years. Earnings for 1965 may show moderate improvement. A switch to Atchafalpa, an income rail, or Continental Oil, a quality growth issue is suggested.

Inmate Found Dead

DANMORA, N. Y. AP — William Lopez, 23, of Brooklyn, was found dead, apparently a suicide, today by an attendant at Danmora State Hospital, State Police said.

Lopez was discovered hanging by his shirt from the grill of a wall radiator. He recently had been moved to an isolation room because of violent behavior, authorities said.

$1.7 Billion Asked try has declared war, not only on domestic problems like ignorance and poverty, but also "on tyranny and aggression."

But he also promised to continue to work for a peaceful settlement in Viet Nam, adding, "If we do that we'll come home tomorrow."

The President spoke on the White House lawn to members of the International Platform Association, a group describing itself as a trade association for lecturers. It has about 4,800 members with headquarters in Cleveland, Ohio.

Territory Not Goal

Johnson remarked that he heard criticism of U.S. air strikes against targets in North Viet Nam, but little criticism of Communist attacks on South Viet Nam.

"The point I want to make is why on, why don't people concern themselves with a country trying to maintain her independence against aggression?" he said.

"We don't want an inch of territory," Johnson continued. "We don't want a single base. We don't want anything except to help those people do what we agreed to do."

McNamara agreed to give the figures on the expected added costs of the Viet Nam fighting to the Senate Appropriations Committee, which has been delaying action on the annual $45 billion defense money bill already approved by the House.

McNamara told the senators that the Communist Viet Cong now hold the initiative in Viet Nam.

A 340,000 increase in the armed forces proposed by McNamara would lift them to 2,980,000 men by the end of next June 30.

He predicted that South Viet Nam, with the aid of additional U.S. fighting forces, will win in the long, hard pull ahead.

$700 Million So Far

So far Congress has provided $700 million to meet the costly Viet Nam military efforts, and that was in a supplemental appropriation which President Johnson asked May 5, Congress rushed it through so fast it was signed May 7.

This bill was regarded as a measure of congressional support then for Viet Nam policies as much as a part payment on the heavy outlays overseas.

Sen. John Stennis, D-Miss., disclosed Tuesday that a secret report based on six months of investigating of Army readiness and supplies by his watchdog defense panel alleged serious shortages and deficiencies in the Army's combat equipment and supplies.

Because the bipartisan and unanimous report included sensitive military data, Stennis said it could not be made public.

Gradual Warming Period Likely

ALBANY, N. Y. (AP) — Extended forecasts for Upstate New York, prepared by the U.S. Weather Bureau, from Thursday through Monday:

Gradual warming over most of the period with temperatures reaching the 80s early in the period, but no extreme heat indicated. Rather humid by Friday. Night time lows will be more moderate and in the 50s to low 60s by Friday. A cooler trend is likely late in the weekend. No definite indications of substantial rainfall, but some showers or thundershowers are likely by the weekend and possibly a few showers in scattered areas at the beginning.

Illinois, Florida Area Drenched, Clear Elsewhere

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Thunderstorms and showers continued in parts of the Midwest and Southeast today but skies cleared in most other sections of the nation.

Nearly three inches of rain, with some hail, doused Moline, Ill., in three hours. Wind gusts of 51 miles per hour swept the Peoria, Ill., area. A shower belt extended from Moline to Joliet, Ill. Showers also dampened areas in southwestern lower Michigan and northern Indiana.

Earlier, thunderstorms and rain hit broad areas from Nebraska to the northern Great Lakes, in Florida and along the Gulf Coast to Texas and in scattered sections of the Western mountains. More than three inches of rain pelted areas northwest of West Palm Beach, Fla., in 90 minutes. Cool air covered the Northeast but temperatures were near normal levels in most of the Midwest after several days of cool weather. Record low marks for Aug. 3 and Aug. 4 were set in Elkins, W.Va., with a 44 reading shortly before midnight and a 42 early today. The morning's high was 96 at Needles, in the California desert region.

Kripplebush

KRIPPLEBUSH — The annual Labor Day picnic will be held at the Kripplebush JOUAM Hall.

The Rev. and Mrs. Bruce Carlson are on two weeks vacation, part of which they will spend in Florida. Dixon McGrath will supply the Methodist Church pulpit.

The Thimble Club will hold its meeting Tuesday, Aug. 10 on the lawn of Mrs. Uriah Conner's home. Those attending will bring a covered dish and table setting. A number of out-of-town guests visited the local museum Saturday and Sunday. It is open from 1 to 4 p. m. on the weekend.

Carl and Clarence Miller are spending a vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Julius Haener Jr. and family in Ellenville.

The Rev. and Mrs. William Wood of Utica are spending their vacation with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hough and family.

Sales Tax Meet Set Thursday

Area business men and women will have an opportunity Thursday night to ask questions about the state's new two per cent sales tax at a session at the Governor Clinton Hotel sponsored by the Kingston Uptown Business Men's Association.

The session is scheduled to start at 7:30 p. m.

Edward F. Hritz, director of the district State Sales Tax office, which covers this area, will attend the meeting to answer questions and discuss the new sales tax which has caused much confusion among merchants, tavern owners and other business people.

Hritz, a former Poughkeepsie city sales tax auditor, reported Tuesday that his office in that city, received upwards of 250 calls from confused Dutchess County business men and from merchants in other parts of the district, for rulings regarding the new levy.

The sales tax in the City of Poughkeepsie is three per cent, including the new state tax, while in the rest of Dutchess County, the tax is two per cent.

Red Paper Hits Vacation Waste

MOSCOW (AP) — As his train rolled into Moscow from Siberia, A. Cherkashon was eager to begin his vacation.

He was still 1,300 miles from his goal, the sunny Soviet coast of the Black Sea, but he spied a potted palm in the railroad station.

Cherkashon, the director of district movie houses at Krasnoyarsk, embraced the palm tree with enthusiasm, began singing the popular "Palms of Gagra," and started taking off his clothes for a sun bath.

Alas, the Labor Ministry paper Trud complains, people will say that "drunkards spoil their vacations themselves." But not everyone can have a vacation, and the drunks waste the limited facilities.

When mine surveyor Berbnikov and tractor operator Vyazovsky reached the Crimean coast of the Black Sea, they rushed to a beach kiosk and had a drink. Then they had a few more.

They tried to go swimming. Instead they went to the bottom and had to be rescued and given artificial respiration. They were sent to a well-used Soviet institution, a sobering-up station.

Trud says only the right people should get vacation trips, which are financed from government-controlled funds, because "it is a useless futile thing to send drunkards there and back."

Hope to Implant Portion of Finger

Efforts to implant a portion of a finger severed from the hand of an 18-year-old Pine Plains farm worker this morning, were expected to be made by surgeons at Vassar Hospital, Poughkeepsie.

Rhinebeck State Police reported Burt Bongard, an employee on the Rojan Farm, Inc., Pine Plains, was operating a silage chopper at about 10 a. m., when the machine jammed. The youth, it was reported removed a casing and was attempting to free the mechanism while the motor was still running, when a blade severed part of a finger of his right hand.

Bongard was rushed to Northern Dutchess Hospital and later transferred to Vassar Hospital. Meanwhile, Trooper John Ryan and Grover Hutchins Jr., a layman of Pine Plains, returned to the farm and after some searching found the severed portion of the youth's finger.

It was given to Trooper James Horkan, who sped to the hospital in Poughkeepsie where immediate surgery was performed in an effort to implant the severed part of the farmhand's finger.

Demos Seek GOP Support in Move To Upset Scranton

HARRISBURG (AP) — Already stung with one setback, House Democrats made a last ditch effort to muster the needed Republican support in their drive to upset Gov. Scranton's veto of some $19.3 million in general appropriation proposals.

House majority leader Joshua Eilberg D-Philadelphia, indicated shortly before the final showdown he was still hopeful public sentiment could sway enough Republicans to the Democratic cause.

But the outcome seemed almost inevitable, especially in view of Tuesday's failure by the Democrats to pick up a single Republican vote in the first showdown on the veto.

The vote came on $6,067 million earmarked for child welfare in the Democratic appropriations bill. Scranton vetoed it on the grounds the state did not have the necessary funds to finance the increase.

Still at issue and scheduled for a vote today were Scranton cuts of $10 million for public assistance, $1.6 million for public libraries and $100,000 each for the House and Senate appropriations committees. House Republicans, although in the minority, said they would stubbornly reject the entire Democratic venture.

Originally Democrats had planned to roll all the veto proposals for a vote Tuesday but after the first defeat, they called off the remainder until today.

Library Lists Two Changes in Bookmobile Stops

The Bookmobile Committee of the Kingston City Library Board of Trustees announced today two changes in its regular schedule of bookmobile stops.

The station in Block Park Monday from 10 a. m. to 12:30 p. m. will be changed to the corner of Wurts and Pierpont Streets near St. Peter's Church. Service to this new location will start Monday, August 9 and will continue for each Monday thereafter.

The station in Academy Green Thursday from 1:30 to 4 p. m. will be changed to the Kingston Shopping Plaza near Britts Department Store. Service to this new location will start Thursday, Aug. 5 and will continue for each Thursday thereafter.

Don Sager, Kingston library director, explained that the bookmobile stops were shifted to areas of greater population concentration and public access to offer greater service to the public.

Sager said that the board's committee had all the present stops under review and that some changes would be necessitated before optimum utility was obtained.

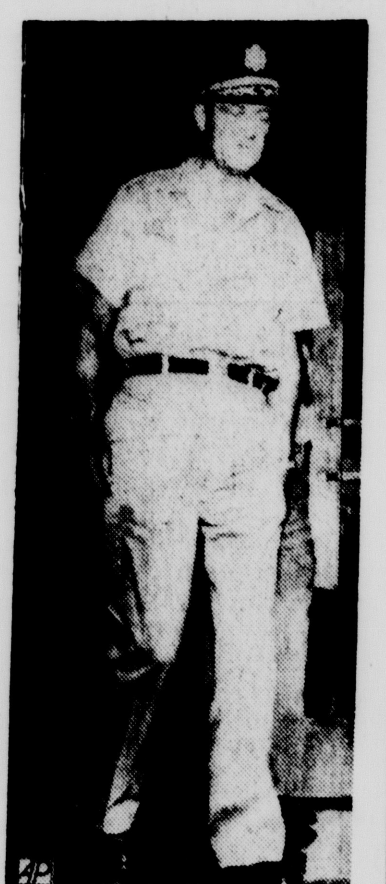

At the present time, he explained, the committee was pleased with the overall success of the bookmobile program. Thousands of books and new library cards have been issued during the first month of service.

Two Are Fined

Kevin Bradley, 21, of 10 Highland Avenue, driver of a motor bike, who was booked recently on two charges following a mishap on Delaware Avenue, was fined $10 in city court today. He paid $5 each on charges of failure to keep right and violation of a double traffic line. Clifford Henze, 56, of PO Box 5, Hurley, charged with speeding, was fined $10.

Misfire Is Fatal

POMPANO BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Construction worker Dale Campbell was atop a one-story house Tuesday attempting to clear a jammed 25-caliber rivet gun when the tool misfired. The steel rivet struck and killed Campbell's employer, George Alexander, 55, who was standing on the ground. Authorities said the bolt hit Alexander in the heart.

Texans Lock Horns As Feud Is Renewed

EL PASO, Tex. (AP) — Democrat Ralph W. Yarborough leveled sharp criticism at Democrat Gov. John B. Connally and the governor replied in kind Tuesday.

Their blunt exchange signaled renewal of a Texas political feud that could put President Johnson in the middle, particularly if the two run for the same office in the next election as some expect.

His Gov.'s Veto

Addressing the Texas AFL-CIO convention here, Yarborough said Connally vetoed a Farmers Union plan for an anti-poverty project in southwest Texas which promised to be one of the finest in the nation.

The senator also said the Labor Department holds such projects should pay a $1.25 hourly wage "unless the community could present persuasive evidence that a lower wage was justified." He added:

"Many Texas communities want to pay this $1.25 minimum wage. The governor has done everything he can get away with to frustrate their wishes."

Yarborough is sponsoring a measure before Congress to cancel the veto power of state governors over poverty programs.

Connally, who has said repeatedly the $1.25 wage is too high for anti-poverty projects in Texas, told a news conference in Austin, he vetoed the Farmers Union project because the organization has a political purpose.

"I would have done the same thing if it had been the Farm Bureau," he said.

The governor also told newsmen he had not reached a decision on his political future. He said many letter writers asked him to run for a third term as governor while others wanted him to seek the Senate seat now held by John Tower, Texas Republican.

Urged to Make Race

Yarborough leads the liberal faction among Texas Democrats and Connally the conservative. Forces of the senator failed last year in an attempt to wrest control of the state Democratic convention from Connally.

Spokesmen for liberals have been quoted as urging Yarborough to make a race for governor. Under Texas law he could run without resigning as senator. There has been no public comment from Yarborough. During the 1950s, Yarborough

Pat Neal Has Fifth Child and Both Doing Well

OXFORD, England (AP) — Actress Patricia Neal, still recovering from the effects of a triple stroke six months ago, gave birth today to a 6-pound 8-ounce girl.

The baby is the 39-year-old film star's fifth child. She was born in the Nuffield maternity wing of Oxford's Radcliffe Hospital.

"Pat and the little girl are both well. Everything is normal," said Miss Neal's husband, British writer Roald Dahl.

"She's fooled everyone. Nobody thought she could go through with it — but she did."

Miss Neal entered the hospital Monday night. The baby was due in about two weeks but her husband said the doctors hoped to induce the birth to reduce her time of waiting.

She spent hours in the hospital Tuesday pacing a corridor to advance the birth. As a result of her strokes, she still wears a steel and leather brace on one leg.

Dahl, 47, was at the hospital when the baby was born but was not in the room. Asked how he felt, he replied: "Just wonderful and prouder than ever of Pat."

Miss Neal, winner of an Academy Award for her performance in "Hud," was stricken in February while making a film in California. She and her husband returned to their home in Britain last May. Their other children are three girls and a boy.

U. S. Describes Needs For Erie Pollution

CLEVELAND (AP) — The federal government has described what needs to be done to clean up Lake Erie's pollution for some 40 representatives from five states in conference here.

The Public Health Service officials complete today the reports begun in Tuesday's opening session. Then it will be up to state and local government officials and industry representatives to indicate the extent which they are prepared to go along with the recommendations.

Murray Stein, chief enforcement officer of the Public Health Service and chairman of the conference, is cautiously optimistic that the sessions — likely to run into Thursday — will produce a stepping up of antipollution measures.

New York and Pennsylvania will present antipollution programs for their areas in Buffalo next Tuesday.
